VACCINATING ALL ELIGIBLE KIDS IS TOP PRIORITY: MODI

Schools will need to launch special campaigns to inoculate all eligible children at the earliest, PM Narendra Modi said

COVID THREAT IS NOT OVER YET, SAYS PM

Speaking at an interaction with chief ministers on Wednesday, the Prime Minister said Covid still poses threat. Noting that schools have opened after a long time and parents are worried over the recent spike in infections in some states, Modi said vaccination is the best way to protect against the virus. But there was no word on the timeframe of the inoculation drive

Mega vax drives at schools for 6-12 age group

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AS per Prime Minister Narendra Modi's instruction, the Karnataka government will take up a mega-vaccination drive for children aged between 6 and 12 at schools, said Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, but added that no restrictions on economic activities will be imposed, though the public has to cooperate by following all Covid protocols.

He said that the government plans to focus more on Bengaluru as the state capital has emerged as the Covid hotspot in the state.

Speaking to reporters after a video-conference with Modi to discuss the prevailing Covid situation in the country on Wednesday, Bommai said they explained the present scenario in Karnataka to the Prime Minister.

Covid is under control in the state. But after April 9, the positivity rate has started rising in Bengaluru. The state government has now increased testing, aiming to reach at least 30,000 tests per day and are now conducting over 10,000 tests daily in Bengaluru.

Random testing for international travellers is also being done. Officials are carrying out tele-tracking of passengers from Australia, New Zealand, Indonesia, South Korea and other countries where cases are high. This apart, Bommai said, Covid tests will be conducted on all severe acute respiratory illness (SARI) patients admitted at various hospitals, and if they test positive, their samples would be sent for genome testing.

On Tuesday, the Drug Controller General of India gave approval for Covaxin by Bharath Biotech to be administered among 6-12 year-olds. The PM directed states to organise mega-vaccination drives at schools for children in this age group and also to increase vaccination of older children. The focus is on people who are over 60 years old, he added.

"As per Prime Minister Modi's direction, we are focusing more on Track, Trace, Treat and Tika (vaccination)," Bommai added.

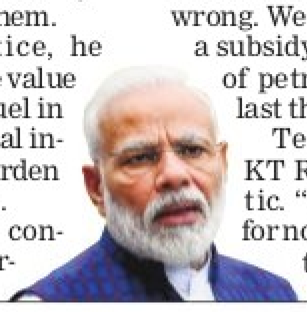
Oppn retorts after PM tells them to cut fuel tax

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Wednesday took Opposition chief ministers by surprise at a Covid review meeting by attacking them for not reducing taxes to contain fuel prices, triggering a volley of angry retorts from them.

Calling it injustice, he urged them to reduce value added tax (VAT) on fuel in their states in national interest to ease the burden on the common man.

A big part of his concluding remarks during the meeting was on fuel prices. But since all others participants were muted, the fuming Opposition later accused Modi of playing politics and passing the buck.



West Bengal CM Mamata Banerjee said the interaction was one-sided and misleading. "Facts shared by him were wrong. We have been providing a subsidy of ₹1 on every litre of petrol and diesel for the last three years."

Telangana minister KT Rama Rao was caustic. "Name-calling states for not reducing VAT even though we never increased it; is this the co-operative federalism... #Telangana hasn't increased VAT on fuel since 2014 & rounded off only once," he said.

CM: NEED TO KEEP ECONOMY IN MIND

CM Basavaraj Bommai on Wednesday was noncommittal on any further cut in fuel tax saying any decision on this will be taken after looking at the status of the economy of the state. "We must see our economy also. Based on that, we will decide," he said.

Tamil Nadu Finance Minister Palanivel Thiaga Rajan ruled out any VAT relief saying, "It is neither fair nor feasible for the state government to further reduce taxes."

Kerala's Finance Minister K N Balagopal said the increase in fuel rates was due to the cess and surcharge levied by the Centre, adding Kerala has not increased fuel tax since the last six years.

Maharashtra CM Uddhav Thackeray said the Centre owed ₹26,500 crore to the state and accused it of a step-motherly treatment. Congress' RS Surjewala sought an account of the ₹27 lakh crore collected by the BJP government from tax on fuel. P4

11 electrocuted during TN car fest

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Thanjavur

ELEVEN people, including three children, were electrocuted and 17 others injured when a temple chariot (sapparam) came in contact with a high-tension overhead power line at Kalimedu village on Thanjavur-Budalur main road early on Wednesday.

The temple chariot after the incident at Kalimedu village in Thanjavur on Wednesday | MK ASHOK KUMAR

Sources said the accident occurred when the chariot was being taken in a procession during the 94th sathaya vizha of Tirunavukkarasar. The decorated car with wooden base was pulled through the streets of the village from around Tuesday midnight. The procession reached the eastern end of the village around 3.10 am on Wednesday. After this, when people tried to turn the chariot to take it back to its stand near the temple (Appar Mutt), the top of the chariot touched the power line. Six people died on the spot. At least 22 other injured were rushed to Thanjavur medical college hospital. Five of them later died.

President Ram Nath Kovind, PM Narendra Modi, Governor R N Ravi, and Chief Minister M K Stalin expressed shock and grief over the deaths. Modi announced ₹2 lakh each from Prime Minister's National Relief Fund to the next of kin of those who lost their lives, and ₹50,000 to those injured.

ANOTHER ROW?

Minister objects to catechism in Christian schools

ENS @ Mangaluru

TAKING a U-turn just days after announcing that Bible and Quran, apart from Bhagavad Gita, will be part of moral education in schools, Primary and Secondary Education Minister BC Nagesh on Wednesday raised an objection to Christian schools conducting catechism classes for students, saying it is in violation of the Karnataka Education Act.

The statement is likely to kick up a row as many Christian schools conduct catechism classes for Christian students.

At Hampankatta in Mangaluru, he said that no religious practices or religious texts can be allowed in schools. "It's a different matter if you tell students about Jesus Christ like we do about Swami Vivekananda. But you cannot allow religious practices in schools. The Bible and Quran are religious books," he said.

Asked whether the Gita is allowed in schools, he said, "It teaches values to be adopted in one's life, whereas here students are being asked to follow the Christ. Comparing Bhagavad Gita with other religious books is not right, because Gita is not a religious text." P4

Alok Kumar, Dayananda in race for top cop post

Kumar was commissioner earlier, handpicked by Kumaraswamy

PRAVEEN KUMAR @ Bengaluru

BENGALURU city is likely to get a new police commissioner soon, and names of two 1994-batch IPS officers are doing the rounds. Alok Kumar, who had served as police commissioner for just 47 days, might be reinstated, while B Dayananda, currently posted as Director, State Intelligence, is also in the race.

With assembly elections just a few months away, Alok Kumar's name is being considered as he is known for tough policing. During his short stint, he had left a mark in the city, and put the entire city police on high alert with surprise visits to police stations. Dayananda, who is from Ranebennur in Karnataka, has an edge as he is from the state, and his name was almost finalised for the top cop's post on December 31, the day promotions and transfers of IPS officers are announced.

The others in the running are 1995-batch IPS officer Umesh Kumar, CH Pratap Reddy (1991 batch), who is posted as ADGP, Law and Order. He was handpicked by the home minister to investigate the sensational Mysuru student's gangrape case.

Alok Kumar was police commissioner during the Congress-JDS government, and was chosen by former chief minister HD Kumaraswamy for the coveted post. He was moved out after the BJP government came to power.

B Dayananda also has experience working in Bengaluru -- he was joint commissioner of police (crime) and also headed the city's traffic department. Umesh Kumar is from Patna in Bihar.

Police Commissioner Kamal Pant, who was promoted as Director General of Police (DGP) in April last year, has been holding the post since August 2020.

Axles being readied at Rail Wheel Factory in Yelahanka, Bengaluru | EXPRESS

RWF to supply axles for India's fastest train

S. LALITHA @ Bengaluru

THE ongoing Russia-Ukraine crisis has given an opportunity for the Rail Wheel Factory (RWF) to ready axles for the prestigious Vande Bharat Express (Train 18) for the first time. The Yelahanka-based company which caters to requirements of Indian Railways is set to dispatch a total of 136 axles for Train 18, which is the fastest train in the country.

Train 18 is a semi high-speed train fitted with a GPS system and is operated by the Indian Railways under the 'Make in India' initiative. It touched a speed of 180 kmph during tests but the maximum speed during commercial runs is 160 kmph.

According to the Chief Public Relations Officer, RWF, Jitendra Haral, "The Hyderabad-based Medha Servo Private limited was contracted by the Railway Board to deliver forged axles to the Perambur based Integral Coach Factory for 44 Vande Bharat rakes(train). It was supposed to get the axles from M/s Stork in Ukraine but the ongoing war has affected the supply."

The Railway Board has requested RWF to do so. "We will supply a total of 136 axles," Haral said. Axles are used to join wheels together to form a wheel set. The total cost of the order is Rs 2.22 cr.

Aircraft tyre bursts after landing

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE tyre of the landing gear of a Dreamliner flight of Thai Airways from Bangkok to Bengaluru burst at the Kempegowda International Airport with 260 passengers while docking into the bay after landing on Tuesday night. The passengers were not endangered in any way, said a reliable airport source.

As a consequence, the return leg of the flight from Bengaluru to Bangkok on Wednesday morning could not take place and the flyers will board the flight early on Thursday.

A source said that after landing at 11:30 pm, the flight was taxiing from the runway to the terminal to the international parking bay, one of the 12 wheels of the flight on its right got deflated. The ground staff noticed it and alerted the officials.

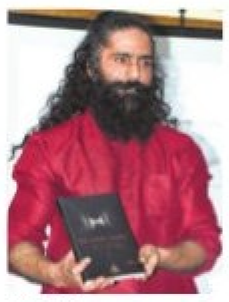
An airport source said, "TG 325 (B788) from Bangkok landed at Bengaluru and while docking into stand 05, the landing gear tyre was found to be deflated." The same flight was to leave to Bangkok within an hour's time with 140 departing passengers. "All passengers were provided with hotel accommodation and rebooked for departure flight on April 28 at 12:30 am," he said.

UNCONVENTIONAL TAKE

Author claims existence of God in book

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

IN an unconventional take, an author claims to have proven the existence of god following 14 years of research, combing religious texts and combining them with anatomical biology and embryology. He believes that the answers to the scriptures put forth by various religions are found in a more physical place than a philosophical one.



Ainarihc

Ainarihc, the author of 'The Grand Scheme Vol 1: The Truth' and 'The Grand Scheme Vol 2: The Journey', has made various comparisons between scriptures from various religions and biology in the books. "Many scriptures are filled with stories that are often contradictory or unbelievable. A lot of disbelief in religion comes from the scriptures being unbelievable or impossible for them to happen in the real world," he said at a press meet on Wednesday. "All of the religious stories we've read are not stories outside, but stories within," he said, giving the example of Patala Loka, the netherworld, being a description of the spinal cord and the nervous system.

He explained that the book is filled with observations from various religions. The book itself is written as a thriller novel, having two simultaneous timelines and characters. "Fourteen years ago, I believed that I could find some meaning behind the scriptures," he said.

A drive to find meaning in the scriptures as well as a background in science led him to undertake the research.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

28th April : Home and family affairs take first place. Children and parents, sisters and brothers, all deserve our attention. That means that we should all end up caring for each other! What could be better? And if anyone is genuinely in a bad mood then the correct response is to listen to them, and try to understand them.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Can you now see that all the changes that have taken place at work have been both necessary and to your long-term advantage? Hopefully you have by now also taken steps to clean up your diet and improve your exercise regime. It's a day for self-discipline if ever I saw one.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
Commonsense should dictate that you go ahead with all speed to maintain a harmonious environment at work. Decisions need to be taken and discussions must be held, if only so that colleagues are kept in the picture. If you leave them out of the scene now you'll provoke a misunderstanding.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
You must be prepared to consider long-term arrangements, which should moderate your willingness to take risks. However, there is scope for radical discussions as far as joint financial arrangements are concerned. Take time off for a romantic dalliance.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
You may be tempted to haul up your drawbridge today, denying other people access to your innermost thoughts. Such behaviour is of course typical of your sign and fully in keeping with your past practice. Yet that is no reason not to change now, and prepare for a different future.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
The best planetary aspects relate to finances but, in all honesty, we cannot say that you are subject to any undeserved good luck. You will have worked hard for every extra penny and cent you receive, so ignore other people's envy: it means nothing.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
You may have to deal with financial issues in greater detail than is usual. However, this year the period of monetary concern is arriving slightly earlier than last, and is also more auspicious. How pleasant it is to be facing a promising planetary picture.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You may still be concerned that people close to you may not be pulling their weight. Mind you, there's an easy way to deal with such problems, and that's not to take on so much yourself. After all, if other people learnt to clear up after themselves the world would be a much better place!

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
The best way forward for you and all who are concerned with your welfare is to put blatant self-interest to one side. Please try and understand other people's real, emotional needs and do your best to satisfy them. In fact, you should bend over backwards to do them a good turn.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You may endeavour to apply humour and commonsense to complex financial and social situations. You're about to go through a political phase, perhaps immersing yourself in community activities. This certainly looks like a moment to bring out all your selfless virtues.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
For some time, now, you have been advised to expect a substantial alteration in the pattern of your professional life. The phase which you have now entered is favourable for making initial contacts, putting forward fresh proposals and attending interviews.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Something is still disturbing or perplexing you. However, all that your solar chart indicates is that there are mysteries afoot, not what these are or even how you will solve a current dilemma. A cash complication will be no more than a temporary blip, so don't get too wound up.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You will begin to find that partners are becoming somewhat more irrational and less happy to consult or agree on basic terms. You may be forced to fight your corner or surrender recent gains. Have you considered that a tactical retreat might be the best policy?

KIDS AGED 5-12 WILL BE JABBED IN SCHOOLS

Health dept to hold spl campaigns during summer; no time to lose with 4th wave coming up

SHILPA P @ Bengaluru

WITH the Drugs Controller General of India approving vaccines for children aged 5 to 12 years on Tuesday, the State department of health and family welfare is coming up with micro plans at the district level to vaccinate children in this age group. It plans to hold special campaigns in schools during vacation to vaccinate children, according to Arundathi Chandrashekar, National Health Mission Director. It has been a challenge to cover children of this age group, with vaccination coverage among children aged 12 to 18 years still low. Guidelines on vaccinating children aged 5 to 12 years are expected within a day or two.

Of the target of 31,75,000 children aged 15 to 18 years, 80 per cent (25,43,310) are vaccinated with the first dose, and 67 per cent (21,25,312) are vaccinated with the second dose. Among the target of 20,25,000 children between 12 and 15 years of age, 78 per cent (15,69,955) are vaccinated with the first dose and only 3.31 per cent (67,020) are vaccinated with the second dose.

Asked about the low coverage among children, especially the 12-15 age group, Arundathi said they started vaccinating kids in schools on April 1, but exams and vacation followed. They are now planning to host special drives at schools during the vacation, she said.

A medical officer said it is difficult to get kids to primary health care centres for vaccination, and also to go to households and vaccinate kids, because they are now getting 20-dose vials, which need to be finished within four hours of opening.

"Though many parents are apprehensive about the vaccine, I am waiting to get my nine-year-old daughter vaccinated as I feel some protection is better than no protection," said Neetha, a parent.

Dr Naveen Benakappa, pediatrician and Medical Superintendent, Indira Gandhi Institute of Medical Sciences, said, "Biological E's Corbevax and Bharat Biotech's Covaxin for children aged 5 to 12 years, are recommended by a scientific body. Their reactions are very mild. For any vaccination, there have to be adequate trials and more population should be exposed. But we can't wait now, with the impending fourth wave in June."

Make Covid rules part of lifestyle, says BBMP Chief

ENS @ Bengaluru

SO far, there have been no restrictions on get-togethers and cultural programmes but the government is looking into curbs and enforcing Covid-appropriate behaviour. It should become a part of everyone's lifestyle, BBMP Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta said here on Wednesday.

Speaking to the media after a meeting chaired by CM Basavaraj Bommai, Gupta said everyone must take booster doses and follow all Covid-19 norms. When pointed out by media that booster doses are not available in government and BBMP hospitals and primary health centres, Gupta said he did not know about it. "I am told that booster doses are available in all government and private health centres. But if you are saying it is not available, it will be checked and addressed immediately," he said. Asked why a low number of students aged 12-18 years have been vaccinated, Gupta said it is because of summer vacations. Vaccination will be intensified once schools reopen, he said. Later in the day, BBMP also issued a release stating that 102 per cent of those aged above 18 years have taken at least one dose, and 96 per cent have taken their second dose. "All children aged 15-18 have received their first dose and 55 per cent of those aged 12-14 have received at least one dose," the release said.

All BBMP UPHCs are offering free vaccination with Covishield (18+ years), Covaxin (15+ years), Corbevax (12-14 years), and precaution dose for 60+ years. Those aged 18-59 years may get the precaution dose at their nearest private vaccination centres at Rs 386 per dose, the release added.

GUPTA INSPECTS COMPOST MACHINE

Gupta inspected the Compost-Tech machine which was donated and installed by Regenate Private Limited, under its CSR funding, at Kasa-Rasa unit in Koramangala ward limits. The machine is meant for wet waste processing. Gupta said awareness of processing of waste at source should be created among people. More decentralised processing units should be installed. which would help overcome the problem of waste management in the city. On the issue of the solid waste management company yet to pay Rs 180 crore as GST, Gupta said the amount was not calculated and he was not aware of it. Reacting to rising corruption and complaints pointed out by Mohandas Pai, Gupta said Pai's suggestions will be looked into and implemented.

Smile please: Govt dental college to offer laser treatment at low cost

CHETANA BELAGERE @ Bengaluru

THE state government inaugurated an exemplary laser research lab, a one of its kind in South India, at Government Dental College in Bengaluru. Doctors at the lab claim that the dental treatment using laser is going to be painless, faster and cheaper. The lab instituted by the Rajiv Gandhi University of Health Sciences was inaugurated by Health Minister DR K Sudhakar on Wednesday.

Dr Kiran told TNIE, "Using lasers is a young science in dentistry. Private clinics have been using it, but it is for the first time, especially in South India, that a government facility has done it here." From simple drilling of the tooth to prepare the cavity, root canal treatment, tongue tie surgery, aesthetic surgical procedures, minor surgical procedures, pedodontics of gum infections and even regeneration of nerves can be done using the laser.

The laser treatment in this lab has already been tried and tested. "We had one patient this morning too. The treatment is not just less painful, but most complicated surgeries can be done in five minutes," he said. A child as young as 21 days can be operated using this treatment.

Also, pain management is easy. The cost in private hospitals for some of the surgeries, like tongue tie in children—where the tongue is tied to the floor of the mouth and during a procedure, would be anywhere between Rs 50,000 and Rs 1 lakh and also needs admission. But with laser surgery, it can be done at almost one-fourth of the cost and in five minutes.

At this lab, the cost of laser treatment for patients below the poverty line will be lower, as compared to others. At private hospitals, charges for basic treatment range between Rs 5,000 and Rs 10,000, but here it is Rs 500. Dr Sudhakar plans to get dental health officers from rural areas to get trained here.

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Wednesday was non-committal on any further cut in fuel tax saying that any decision in this regard will be taken after looking at the status of the economy of the state.

"Let us see. We must see our economy also. Based on that, we will decide," he told the media after attending his virtual meeting with Prime Minister Narendra Modi. Bommai said this as Modi on Wednesday flagging higher fuel prices in many opposition-ruled states, urged them to reduce VAT in "national interest". The CM also said that Modi appreciated the steps taken by Karnataka in reducing taxes on fuel.

In November 2021, the Karnataka government had cut sales tax on petrol from 35 per cent to 25.9 per cent and on diesel from 24 per cent to 14.34 per cent, which resulted in petrol price reducing by Rs 13.30 per litre and diesel by Rs 19.47 per litre.

"The PM gave Karnataka's example. In November 2021, when the Centre reduced excise duty on fuel, many states, including Karnataka, reduced tax on fuel. Decision to reduce tax on fuel benefited people in those states and if other states also take such a decision it will help people in those states," Bommai said. When asked if Karnataka government will reduce tax on fuel as the price of a litre of petrol has touched Rs 112, Bommai reiterated that a decision will be taken after considering the health of the economy.

While CM did not commit to cutting fuel tax, sources in the State Government said that they already reduced the tax and as of now there is no proposal before to cut the taxes again. Many states have not reduced state tax on fuel.

On Wednesday, Modi cited the example of Karnataka and Gujarat, both ruled by the BJP, saying they have suffered revenue loss of nearly Rs 5,000 crore and Rs 3,500-4,000 crore respectively by reducing VAT.

Siddu seeks GST exemption on newsprint

BENGALURU: Congress leader Siddaramaiah has requested the Centre to exempt printing paper of newspapers from the purview of GST, saying many regulatory policies have affected their operations and finances. In a letter addressed to PM Modi, he said, "I urge you to remove GST on printing paper, create differen-tiation between Registrar of the Newspapers of India (RNI) registered and unregistered agencies at the time of purchasing printing papers, and provide incentive to printing paper manufa-cturing units that make quality paper from cellulose fibres." "The cost of printing paper has doubled in the last two years and increase in GST has caused a huge burden on print media houses to sustainably continue the printing of newspapers," he said.

Cong hits back at Modi, asks him to tell BJP-ruled states to cut taxes first

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

THE Congress on Wednesday hit back at Prime Minister Narendra Modi after he slammed the non-BJP ruled states for not reducing VAT on diesel and petrol.

AICC general secretary Randeep Singh Surjewala asked Modi as to when he will instruct the states ruled by his party to reduce taxes.

"It is an issue of national importance which affects the common people of Karnataka that the PM has raised today. He had asked the Congress and its allies ruled and other non-BJP ruled states to reduce the VAT or excise duty on petrol and diesel. But people want to know when you will ask Karnataka, Madhya Pradesh, Gujrat, Uttar Pradesh, Bihar, Himachal Pradesh, Uttarakhand and Assam to roll back VAT imposed on people of respective states", he thundered.

"Modiji, no criticism, no distraction, no 'jumlal', please answer straight five simple questions: when will you roll back the hike in excise duty and subsidy on the LPG", he tweeted.

When Manmohan Singh was the PM in 2014, excise duty on petrol was Rs 9.48 per litre which the Modi government raised to Rs 27.90 per litre—which means a Rs 18.42 hike. Excise duty on diesel was Rs 3.56 per litre which was increased to Rs 21.80 — a hike of Rs18.24 per litre, while subsidised gas for 14 kg of LPG was Rs 400 which went up to Rs 1,000, Surjewala elaborated.

"Sardar Manmohan Singh used to give subsidies of Rs 1.50 lakh crore on LPG and when will you roll back subsidies. You have collected Rs 27,000 Crore in eight years from excise duty on fuels. When will you give it back to the people of the country?" Surjewala asked Modi.

Speaking on the same lines, KPCC president D K Shivakumar asked Modi to look at the price rise issue in a broader perspective in a federal system instead of preaching non-BJP ruled states.

"Modi should instruct the BJP-ruled states in this regard and set an example. Every pump across the country has Modi's picture with a gas cylinder... now they should also have the information about price rise," he quipped.

BATTLE 2023

CONG BRAINSTORMS ON TARGETING BJP

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Congress has hit the ground running, with the party top brass and newly appointed office-bearers holding a brainstorming session for the 2023 assembly elections, at the KPCC office here on Wednesday. Leader of the Opposition in the Rajya Sabha Mallikarjuna Kharge, Opposition Leader in the assembly Siddaramaiah, former Union minister K H Muniyappa, Campaign Committee chairman M B Patil, working presidents Satish Jarkiholi, Eshwar Khandre, R Dhruvanarayan and others attended the marathon meeting.

AICC general secretary and Karnataka in-charge Randeep Singh Surjewala suggested that the party rank and file highlight the failures of the Bommai government, especially issues related to corruption. He told them to take up the hot-button issues -- the contractors' allegation of 40 per cent commission against the government, price of fuel, LPG and essential commodities, and reach the message to people at the grassroots, sources told TNIE.

Some office-bearers, especially former MLAs who were given posts of vice- presidents and secretaries, and were apprehensive about missing out on party tickets in their assembly constituencies, attended the meeting promptly.

"We have nothing to do with these posts, we want the assurance that we will get tickets," a former MLA told TNIE. There was a buzz that some of these leaders were being given organisational posts as the party is unlikely to field them, unless a survey conducted by KPCC President D K Shivakumar, especially in the Vokkaliga bastion of Old Mysuru region, indicates their chance of winnability, a source said.

Parameshwara skips meet

Former DyCM Dr G Parameshwara's absence at the meeting was noticeable. He returned from New Delhi to Bengaluru on Tuesday, and went out of town on a two-day personal trip, a source said.

He had also skipped Rahul Gandhi's session with party workers, held in Bengaluru on April 1, as he was busy sharing the dais with Union Home Minister Amit Shah at Siddaganga Mutt in Tumakuru.

CM not worried about oppn charges, says 24 hrs not enough to work for state

CM Bommai at Savira Kambada Basadi in Moodbidri on Wednesday

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Wednesday said that 24 hours in a day is not sufficient for him to work for the welfare of the state and hence he can't be bothered by the accusations made by Opposition parties.

Speaking after inaugurating Moodbidri Taluk Administrative Soudha and laying foundation stone for various welfare works in Mulky-Moodbidri Assembly constituency, Bommai said the Opposition rakes up one or the other issue each day that is not useful and hence will not bother about it.

"Many issues that should have been solved are left as it is. Deemed forest issue was not solved because of which farmers are facing harassment. Over 6,500 lakh acres will be delisted from deemed forest status soon and we have submitted an affidavit in this regard before the Supreme Court and have taken a decision in this regard in the Cabinet," he said.

Further, he said that while the Opposition has resorted to 'power politics' and hence is not interested in 'people's politics', BJP is doing 'people's politics' wherein serious efforts are being made to solve people's problems.

The CM said his government is bringing comprehensive changes in education and health sectors to benefit the poor. The changes being brought in the education sector will see poor students rise to important positions in future, he added. Responding to MLA K Umanath Kotian's request, the Chief Minister said he will give clearance to the upgradation of the government hospital in Moodbidri.

POLITICAL THEATRE

'Happy if Jarkiholi enters Cabinet'

BELAGAVI: Former DyCM Laxman Savadi, the political bete noire of former minister Ramesh Jarkiholi, said that he would be happy if the latter is inducted into the Bommai Cabinet. Savadi who took part at a programme in Kokatnur, near Athani, said, "Belagavi district will have more representation in the Cabinet if Jarkiholi is made a minister." However, he denied any rift among BJP MLAs saying "all the legislators and leaders are working unitedly to ensure the party's victory in the next Assembly elections." Speculations are rife that several senior ministers in the Cabinet, including some from North Karnataka, will be dropped to make way for others. But neither the party nor the CM have dropped any hits on this so far. It may be noted that Jarkiholi had strongly rallied behind then Congress candidate Mahesh Kumathalli in 2013 Assembly elections to ensure the latter's victory against BJP's Savadi from Athani. Jarkiholi had spearheaded Kumathalli's campaign by staying put for several weeks in Athani along with several Congress leaders prior to the elections. However, Jarkiholi and Kumathalli later switched over to BJP from Congress along with 15 other Congress and JDS MLAs.

'Not fair to trade in name of religion'

BENGALURU: Following the call given by a few right-wing organisations to buy gold jewels only from shops run by Hindus on Akshaya Tritiya, president of the Karnataka Jewellery Association TA Sharavana said Akshaya Tritiya is a sentimental religious festival and it is not fair to trade in the name of caste and religion. Right-wing organisations, which are running a series of campaigns urging people not to do business transactions with a particular minority community, had recently asked people to buy gold only from jewellery shops owned by Hindus on Akshaya Tritiya. However, Sharavana, also a former MLC, has said, "Forcing customers to buy it from a specified store is an absolute violation of consumer rights." Further, he noted that a humanitarian relationship is as important as the customer-client relationship.

'Oppn leaders ready to join BJP'

HASSAN: Revenue Minister R Ashoka on Wednesday said that Mandya MP Sumalatha Ambareesh and many leaders of the Congress and JDS are planning to join the BJP soon. Ashoka told reporters here that hundreds of supporters of Sumalatha and committed Youth Congress workers, besides JDS workers, are also joining the BJP in the near future. Frustrated JDS leaders have decided to opt for the BJP, as have Congress leaders who are upset with internal developments and cold war between senior leaders. They are waiting for an appropriate time to leave their parties, he added. A day earlier, BJP State President Nalin Kumar Kateel had also said that several leaders, including legislators from other parties, especially from Old Mysuru region, are in touch with him and Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai.

'Minority institutions have no freedom on syllabus'

REFERRING to Clarence High School in Bengaluru reportedly telling students to carry Bibles to the school, Nagesh said he directed department officials to examine the syllabus of Christian institutions in the state.

"We have received complaints that a few Christian educational institutions force students to study the Bible and also conduct exams on it. I have directed BEOs to verify. Schools registered under the Karnataka Education Act must follow the rules laid down by it, be it minority institutions or others. As per the Act, no religious text can be taught in schools," he added.

He said minority institutions have freedom in administrative matters, but not on curriculum or syllabus.

He said former IAS officer Madan Gopal, who heads a task force to implement the National Education Policy-2020, will send position papers (understanding papers) on various subjects to the curriculum committee of the Central government.

"We already have Nali kali and Chilipili curriculum which is a natural way of learning for children. We focus on early education, like learning numbers and words. We will implement NEP in Classes 1 and 2 from the next academic year in 20,000 schools," he added.

PSI RECRUITMENT SCAM

STUNG BY SCAM, STATE GOVT TRANSFERS ADGP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

STUNG by the Police Sub-Inspector (PSI) recruitment scam, the State Government on Wednesday transferred Additional Director General of Police (ADGP), Recruitment, Amrit Paul and posted him as ADGP, Internal Security Division (ISD), with immediate effect in place of ADGP, ISD, Arun J Chakravarthy.

In place of Paul, Additional Director General of Police, Crime & Technical Services R Hithendra has been posted as ADGP, Recruitment.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and Home Minister Araga Jnanendra have come under severe criticism from the Opposition for the alleged wide-scale fraud in the PSI recruitment, which is being investigated by the Criminal Investigation Department (CID).

According to unconfirmed sources, money ranging between Rs 30 lakh and Rs 40 lakh was allegedly demanded from candidates for PSI recruitment.

Retired IPS officers of Karnataka cadre rued the state of affairs and recalled how Police Sub-Inspectorrecruitment in Karnataka was once a model of transparency and best practices in the country.

"The then Lokayukta Justice Santosh Hegde was invited to review the recruitment process of constables and PSIs and point out at the lacunae," said a former IPS officer, who had headed police recruitment.

"Police recruitment should be transparent because corruption begins with paying money to don the khaki. There should be a third party audit of recruitment," said the officers, who didn't wished to be named.

The Criminal Investigation Department has so far arrested 17 persons, including some successful PSI recruits.

Divya Hagaragi, president of Jnana Jyothi English Medium School in Kalaburagi, which was the examination centre, is still said to be absconding. She had applied for anticipatory bail. Her husband - Rajesh -has been arrested by the Criminal Investigation Department in the scam.

CID gets clues on hideouts of accused

RAMKRISHNA BADSESHI @Kalaburagi

THE CID, probing the PSI common entrance test scam, has gathered some vital clues about the hideout of six accused, including prime accused Divya Hagaragi (secretary of Jnana Ganga English Medium School where examination malpractice and manipulation of answer sheets took place), who have been absconding for the last 12 days and have applied for anticipatory bail.

After the third JMFC court issued arrest warrants against six accused on Tuesday, the CID constituted six teams to trace and arrest the accused. The CID has some certain clues on the hideout of Divya Hagaragi. It is not known whether the CID will arrest the accused or they will surrender before the court. The public prosecutor, on behalf of CID, filed objections before the First Additional District & Sessions Court against granting anticipatory bail to the accused. The court has posted the hearing to Friday.

The JMFC court also remanded accused Sunilkumar, arrested by CID in Bengaluru on Monday evening, to eight days of police custody. CID sources said, "Accused Rudragowda and a few others had formed a team to use mobile phones and bluetooth devices to help candidates write correct answers in the multiple-choice questions of PSI CET. The team had also hired experts to choose correct answers for the questions."

Rudragowda used to look for gullible candidates and strike a deal with them to help them write correct answers as well as choosing exam centers. The candidates used to hide bluetooth devices in collars.

The Supreme Court on Wednesday asked the Centre to clarify its position on releasing AG Perarivalan, one of the seven convicts in the Rajiv Gandhi assassination case who had spent more than 30 years in jail. The court will hear the case on May 4.

SUDEEP, DEVGN SQUABBLE OVER NATIONAL LANGUAGE

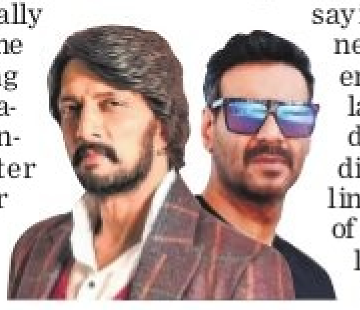
EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE issue of national language took the centre stage again with actor Ajay Devgn claiming that Hindi "was, is and always will be our mother tongue," in response to a statement made by actor Sudeep.

The two actors had a brief confrontation on Twitter, after Devgn took on Sudeep over the latter's statements during the release of the film 'R: The Deadliest Gangster Ever'. Responding to the praise received by KGF Chapter 2 and the Kannada flick being termed a pan-India film, Sudeep said Hindi is no longer the national language.

Responding to this in Hindi, Devgn tweeted on Wednesday evening, "My brother, if according to you Hindi isn't our national language, then why do you dub films in your mother-tongue and release them in Hindi? Hindi was, is and will always be our mother-tongue and national language. Jan Gan Man."

While the squabble was quickly resolved, with Sudeep responding that his quote had been taken out of context and that the misunderstanding would be explained personally, Twitter was ablaze with Sudeep's fans using the #stophindiimposition hashtag to express their disagreement with Devgn's statement. The tweet had especially touched a nerve, in the context of Hindi being pushed as an alternative language by Union Home Minister Amit Shah earlier this month at the 37th meeting of the Parliamentary Official Language Committee.



Congress leader Siddaramaiah responded to Devgn's tweet, saying, "Hindi was never and will never be our national language. It is the duty of every Indian to respect the linguistic diversity of our country. Each language has its own rich history for its people to be proud of. I am proud to be a Kannadiga!!"

Meanwhile, Devgn responded cordially to Sudeep, saying, "Hi @KicchaSudeep, you are a friend. Thanks for clearing up the misunderstanding. I've always thought of the film industry as one. We respect all languages and we expect everyone to respect our language as well. Perhaps, something was lost in translation."

"Twelve, including the five doctors, have been discharged. The condition of the other three is stable," he said. Many bystanders on the campus too complained of eye irritation. The fire is suspected to have been caused by a short circuit. According to Theranirajan, it was a surgical store officer who alerted him of smoke coming out of a store room at the block.

The block also houses the billing section of MRI and CT scan facilities, a kitchen store room, Ortho septic room, radiation oncology and neurology medical wards on the first floor, and a neurology ward on the second floor.

"I went along with the doctors and other staff, and started shifting patients from the first floor. First, we switched off the power. There were three patients in the Neuro ICU, and 30 patients in the general neuro ward. We shifted all of them. Though the patients on the second floor were not affected, we shifted them for their safety," the dean explained.

ED ATTACHES ₹6.7 CR ASSETS OF APP LOAN FIRMS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Directorate of Enforcement (ED) has provisionally attached assets worth Rs 6.17 crore of various fintech (financial technology) companies under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA), 2002 in a case of giving mobile app-based loans to gullible Indians during the Covid pandemic-led economic crisis.

The ED had initiated the investigation on the basis of two separate FIRs registered by the Marathahalli and Mahalakshmipuram police stations in Bengaluru under various sections of the Indian Penal Code (IPC), stated the Central enforcement agency in an official communication on Wednesday.

The investigation revealed that "the accused along with some Chinese nationals opened various companies in the name of various persons for the purpose of illegal transactions, issuing loans and raising investments through mobile apps, like Cash Master, Krazy Rupee, Cashin, Rupee Menu etc," the Central agency said. Explaining the modus operandi used by the fraudsters the ED stated, "These companies were incorporated during Covid at common addresses by active involvement of some Chinese nationals in connivance with certain Indian chartered accountants, who helped by using Know Your Customer (KYC) documents of young Indian nationals in need of money, who were made directors/shareholders in these companies," stated the ED. The fintech firms utilised their own funds received from abroad, mainly from China, to issue short-term loans through non-banking financial companies (NBFCs), the agency added.

The account numbers/payment gateways opened on the basis of KYC documents of these Indian nationals were utilised to provide the loans, and "high processing fees and usurious interest rates" were charged, the ED said. The companies also adopted unethical measures to recover the loan amount and high interest rates.

Varsity can decide on cut in grace marks: HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court dismissed a petition by a BPharma student, questioning a notification issued by the Rajiv Gandhi University of Health Sciences (RGUHS) formulating a new criterion to pass students by reducing grace marks for 2020-21 and onwards.

The petitioner, TN Manu Kumar, is a student of Government College of Pharmacy in the city. He prayed to the court to declare the RGUHS notification dated February 23, 2021 as not applicable for the academic year 2020-21.

The RGUHS said that grace marks will be up to a total of five marks per semester with a minimum of three marks in any one subject, provided the student passes all the subjects of that semester. The guideline is applicable for students of semester scheme admitted from the academic year 2020-21 and onwards, Dismissing the petition, Justice P Krishna Bhat said the petitioner cannot have any vested right as to how his performance is going to be assessed by the University. "It is trite that evaluation of academic excellence is entirely in the province of the university and Courts should be slow in interfering with the same. As already noticed, the petitioner was fully aware at least about 3 months in advance the standard by which his performance is going to be evaluated and what would be minimum marks he was required to secure before he would claim to have passed the examination," the court said.

The court said it cannot be suggested that the university or its authorities do not have the power to make rules, regulations, statutes or ordinances to regulate the said standards.

CONG COMMITTING HARAKIRI BY SUSPENDING JAKHAR

The stunning success of the Aam Aadmi Party in the recent Punjab Assembly elections caught everyone's attention so much that most people spent little time on some of the low drama that played out on the sidelines within the state Congress. After all, the retreat of a shambolic Congress from centre stage was partly predictable, and even the entire Akali Dal pantheon had been rendered hors de combat. Who had time, therefore, to reminisce about a tweet put out by former state unit chief, Sunil Jakhar? Well, trust the Grand Old Party to take time out—even as its own spectacular collapse is the talk of town—to take disciplinary action against one of its own trusted veterans. Jakhar must face a two-year suspension for speaking his mind on mistakes made by the party, says a committee headed by A K Antony.

What had Jakhar said actually? That the high command had erred in choosing Charanjit Channi as the CM, when he had won more votes from MLAs in an internal election process. The son of former Union minister and Lok Sabha Speaker Balram Jakhar, an agriculture expert in his own right, and a rare Hindu leader in Punjab, Jakhar is an undeniable asset to the Congress. Can a party that's already facing high levels of attrition, and seeing loss of territory (and leaders) to the AAP everywhere from Jammu and Himachal to Assam, throw out whatever leadership resources it has? If it won't let a maverick consultant like Prashant Kishor set its house in order, that is its prerogative. But should it allow its own jaded old guard—the very inertia-ridden cabal that PK wanted to free the party from—to ruin whatever it has? Luckily, for now the decision is in abeyance. Sonia Gandhi has more sagacity than the rest of the brains trust put together. But it bodes ill for the INC.

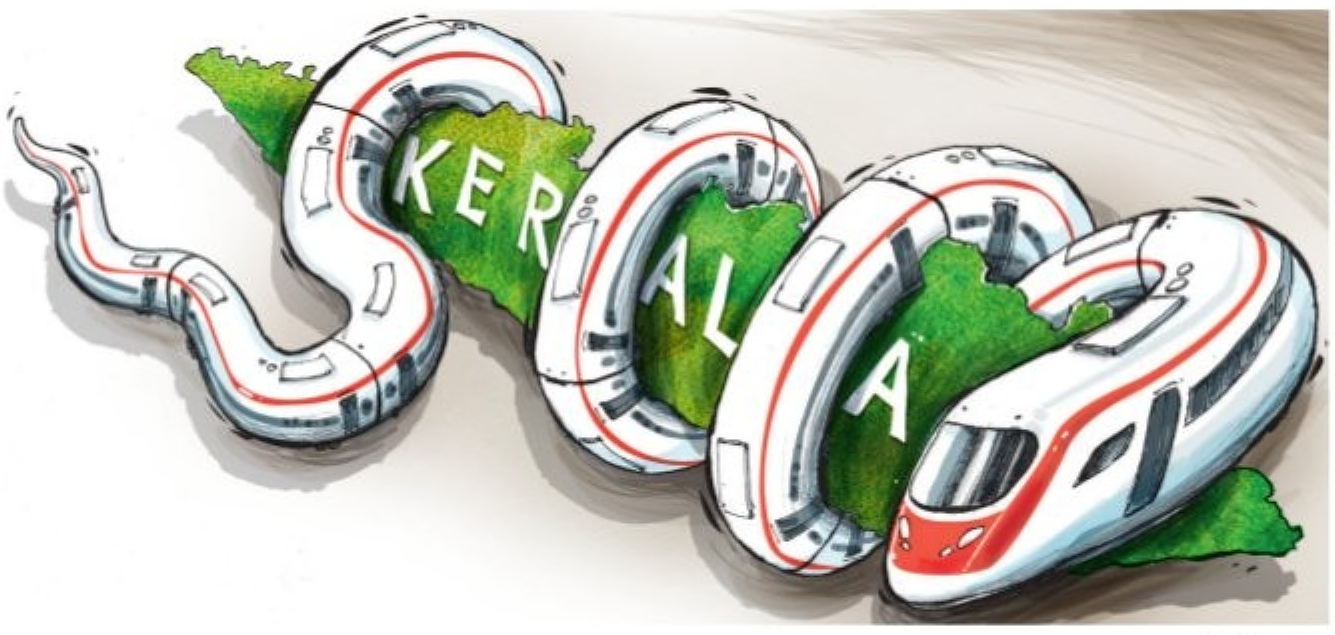
GUV-GOVT TUSSLE IN TN SHOULD END

The ongoing standoff between the Tamil Nadu government and Governor R N Ravi is not only the result of current grievances but also draws from the ideological position of the ruling DMK. The oft-quoted view of C N Annadurai, the DMK founder, that a state needs a governor like a goat needs a beard, sums up the party's position on the matter. A party that espouses federalism, the DMK has also seen its governments dismissed twice—in 1976 and 1991—and has often had contentious relations with Delhi. With the Governor perceived to be sitting on the Bill passed by the state Assembly exempting TN from the NEET, the government is of the view that he is thwarting the will of the people by failing to send the legislation to the President. The government has claimed that at least 19 bills in all are pending with Ravi rather than being passed, an irate Chief Minister M K Stalin recently referring to the Governor's role as one of a "postman". In fact, Ravi had raised eyebrows by sending an earlier version of the same NEET Bill back to the House and sharing his reasoning for his action publicly. The House quickly passed a bill exempting the state from the test again and sent it back to him. Meanwhile, the DMK's MPs have demanded in Parliament that Ravi be recalled and also had a private member bill introduced to give the Governor a time limit by which s/he must act on legislation. In a fresh salvo, the House this week passed two bills to allow the state government to appoint vice-chancellors to 13 of its universities, another attempt to register its protest against the Governor.

While the role of a Governor can be seen as ceremonial, there is enough evidence that those in the post do act politically, especially when different parties rule at the Central and state levels. Undoubtedly, by choosing not to grant assent to legislation passed by elected representatives, Governor Ravi too is opening himself up to this criticism, his actions lending credence to allegations that he is impeding the functioning of the state government for political reasons. It would serve his—and the state's—interests to fulfill his duties in this issue in a timely manner.

A 50-year-old technology that is becoming outdated globally is being proposed for Kerala. It is for the people to decide whether this is needed at an astronomical cost

K-RAIL: HIGH-SPEED TRAVEL OR A RUSHED DECISION?



SOUMYADIP SINHA

G MADHAVAN NAIR

Former ISRO chairman

Kerala Rail Development Corporation Limited or K-Rail is the hottest topic in the state today. Both the ruling party and the opposition are on a war path trying to make as much political mileage out of the situation as possible. Right now, the issue has been reduced to one of land acquisition and a question of rehabilitation of nearly 20,000 families. No doubt, it is a herculean task to rehabilitate these many families considering that constructing even 5,000 houses for the poor could not be completed for several years. Along with this, there are other major concerns in the proposed K-Rail such as the choice of technology, cost and schedule analysis, and finding the basic input materials. Above all, the long embankment and tunnels proposed pose serious ecological problems.

Progress of a modern civilisation is dependent on mobility and communication. Starting from the invention of the wheel to the present day rocket systems for space travel, humankind has strived to achieve higher speeds. Last three decades have seen an explosive growth in modes of transport, thanks to the application of modern science and technology. Thus, it is quite reasonable that Keralites aspire for a faster mode of transport.

Wagons running on rail tracks, for transporting coal in the mines, were invented around the late 18th century. From this, major developments took place in Europe and later in Japan, China, Korea, etc., with steam engine speeds upto 100 km/hr being achieved by the beginning of 20th century. By mid-sixties, the introduction of electric traction and diesel engines took the speed limits to 200 km/hr. Today the TGV rail in France operates at 320 km/hr. In addition to this, there are development plans in France, Japan and China to push speeds to around 500 km/hr using magnetic levitation technology. Today, in India, the Shatabdi express operates with speeds reaching 160 km/hr, and the Government of India has announced plans to introduce the Vande Bharat Express with 200 km/hr as its peak speed. All these programmes, to enable the operation of semi-high speed trains as done in other countries, are based on the existing broad gauge railway track network. Indian railway has a credible record of speeding up the trains in existing routes of Delhi, Agra, Kanpur, Jalandhar, etc. achieving 160 km/hr. Also, high-speed trains are planned along the Ahmedabad-Mumbai route to operate at 300 km/hr in a specially designed corridor.

The proposed K-Rail for the future generations of Kerala is an outdated technology and is only a semi-high speed one running at 200 km/hr. One has to examine the true relevance of K-Rail in a scenario when The Indian Railways has plans to upgrade their system in Kerala by doubling and strengthening the lines, and modernising the signalling system. Through these modifications, peak speeds of 200 km/hr can be achieved with an expenditure of less than ₹10,000 crore with an average speed of about 150 km/hr. With this, the travel time between Kasaragod and Thiruvananthapuram can be reduced to less than five hours.

Initially, the K-Rail project was kept aside due to a huge estimated cost of around ₹200,000 crore and the problems associated with land acquisition. About five years later, the LDF brought out a new report showing a much reduced cost of ₹64,000 crore. How can the estimate be brought down to one-third when a time overrun can itself lead to a 50% cost rise? NITI Aayog, in its analysis, had indicated that the project cost would be around ₹150,000 crore.

In the preamble of K-Rail's project report, the main objectives are stated as ushering in a new technology of high-speed travel. The fact is that a 50-year-old technology that is becoming outdated globally is being proposed for Kerala's future. It is for Keralites to choose whether they need a new rail system almost parallel to the existing network of The Indian Railways at an astronomical cost.

Elevated platforms and tunnels also pose technical and schedule constraints. On the whole, the estimate of five years is highly optimistic given that the high speed rail work between Mumbai and Ahmedabad is taking more than five years.

Another advantage claimed is adopting green technology and achieving carbon neutrality. Already the trains in Kerala are running on electric traction with zero emission. A further improvement by augmenting the rooftop solar capacity can be established in the present scheme as well. Using buses, cars and auto rickshaws running on either batteries or natural gas can give the much-needed reduction in carbon emissions.

K-Rail easing travel agonies in Kerala is a myth. The population living within 10 km from the proposed railway stations is less than 40%. Hence, the majority of people will have to depend on roads. Also a major fraction of rail passenger traffic is to and from outside the state. The K-Rail does not have interoperability with the broad gauge tracks and it will only add to the agonies of long-distance travellers. For those travelling within the state, the road will continue to be the mainstay.

With this scenario, there is no point in proceeding with K-Rail. The ₹200,000 crore can be better utilised for completing already planned schemes such as the six-lane highway between Kasaragod and Parasala, widening the state highways to four lanes and improving the connectivity to interior regions in Wayanad, Idukki, Malappuram, etc. Through doubling the existing rail lines and improving the signalling system that can reduce the travel time by about 40% was approved 10 years ago, it is still in the back-burner.

Of late, the quality of higher education in Kerala is deteriorating and the employability of the students is low. Huge investments in higher education, research and skilling are very much needed. The high-quality healthcare provided by the state government is the reason for its high ranking in the health sector. However, currently, high-quality healthcare is available only from private players, whose services are unaffordable to the common people.

Transportation is only one of the issues, whereas other vital problems such as rebuilding Kerala after the floods, providing drinking water, housing, strengthening the agriculture sector and investment in manufacturing needs attention. The savings from withholding the K-Rail can be well spent for the sustainable future of the state.

> Initially, the K-Rail project was kept aside due to a huge estimated cost of around ₹200,000 crore. About five years later, the LDF revised it to ₹64,000 crore. How can the estimate be brought down to one-third when a time overrun can itself lead to a 50% cost rise? NITI Aayog had said that the project cost could not be less than ₹150,000 crore

A MONUMENT OF MAGNANIMITY IN NEW DELHI

VINAY SAHASRABUDDHE

President, ICCR, and BJP Rajya Sabha MP

In Delhi, you get down at Indira Gandhi International Airport, and via either Nehru Place or Motilal Nehru Marg, you can reach Rajiv Chowk. This, though sounding like a mere description of the route, in fact, is a political statement. Whether one dares to discuss it or not, the fact remains that one single ruling family in India has been recognised and decorated too disproportionately over the last seven decades. Journalist and former Prasar Bharati Chairman A Surya Prakash had very painstakingly compiled a list of over 100 government organisations and institutions named after the members of just one family, obviously from the Nehru dynasty. The recognition is so disproportionate that the long list also incorporates a national park in Mumbai named after Sanjay Gandhi, whose only qualification to fame was being Indira Gandhi's son.

It is in this setting one has to assess the importance of the inauguration of Pradhan Mantri Sangrahalaya in Delhi a fortnight ago. The Sangrahalaya is not just about the addition of yet another iconic spot to the list of must-visit sites in the national capital but it is also important for at least three other more prominent reasons. Firstly, it marks the institutionalisation of the end of political untouchability practised religiously so far by the Congress and many so-called progressive political groups. Secondly, it also sets up a unique example of how a project that could be considered purely political could be handled in a completely non-partisan and objective manner. Thirdly, it underscores the importance of documenting contemporary history and preserving artefacts of the present times. In addition, it also stresses on showcasing the contemporary history using almost all available modern technologies.

Firstly, the Sangrahalaya is unique for both the concept as well as the conduct. It showcases by far the most inclusive and democratic approach towards creating monuments that have a political underpinning. So far, only five ex-PMs—Nehru, Shastri, Indira, Rajiv and Vajpayee—have their samadhis right in the capital. P V Narasimha Rao died in Delhi but his family was not allowed to carry out the last rights in the capital, lest there would be a demand for a samadhi. Besides, the national capital has museums dedicated to Nehru, Shastri and Indira only. The new Sangrahalaya puts an end to this selective generosity. It showcases the contribution of all ex-prime ministers while providing enough space for all future PMs. More importantly, the depiction of the contribution of every PM along with a review of his/ her tenure has been done in an indisputably objective manner. As a result, at least so far, no family of any ex-PM could find a reason to complain about. In fact, as commented by a visitor, the Modi government has captured the tenure of Jawaharlal Nehru in a much more impressive manner as compared to the old Nehru Museum, created by the dynasty of India's first PM. Interestingly, the gifts received by past PMs and later on deposited in the Toshakhana or the official government store of collected gifts, and displayed in the Sangrahalaya are very limited in number. This is because, apparently, not many ex-PMs had deposited them in the Toshakhana. Nonetheless, as underscored by Modi, every government led by every PM has contributed to the nation's advancement in its own way and the Sangrahalaya not just recognises this but also expresses the nation's gratitude towards all of them.

Secondly, the Sangrahalaya comes across as a textbook example of total objectivity in presenting all former prime ministers, representing different political ideologies. This, in the backdrop of scores of examples of political untouchability that the nation had been a witness to for several decades, is just remarkable. No matter how brief was the tenure of a PM, he or she is duly recognised here. Considering that public discourse in India has always evolved under the shadow of what many believe as political correctness, this museum steadfastly remains away from such a lure. In our country, few PMs had decorated themselves with Bharat Ratna while they themselves were in office. For a few others, their decoration had to wait for a more sympathetic political party to come to power.

Considering all this, with this project, PM Narendra Modi has opened a new refreshing chapter of democratising national recognition to our past PMs, making it a museum of magnanimity.

Lastly, the setting up of this Sangrahalaya is singularly important considering the fact that as a society we are not famous for properly documenting contemporary history. In fact, generally speaking, neither our universities nor contemporary researchers and history scholars have given due importance to the post-independence history of India. This museum has effectively done away with this glaring lacuna. History is always in the making and one can hope that this Sangrahalay would keep reminding us about the continued importance of documentation, compilation of archival material and also collection of artefacts of not just the past but also the present. Our criminal neglect of all the above has made India a nation of maximum history with minimum institutionalised efforts to respect and recognise the same. Also important is the fact that this Sangrahalaya is much more than a traditional museum. History telling, here, comes with a blend of creativity and modern technology. From artificial intelligence and simulation technology to machine learning and virtual reality, most modern technologies have been used here in a seamless manner making this modern India's tech-marvel too.

When next time in Delhi, visiting this Sangrahalaya is a must as it tells us how to look at your past, while being dispassionate about the present for the benefit of the future.

A zero-sum game

It is huge setback for the Congress and opposition parties that the Prashant Kishor deal did not come through.
The BJP must be secretly rejoicing over this development as it would help the party in the upcoming 2024 general elections. The Congress party's loss is the BJP's gain.

No lessons learnt

This is with reference to It's a finite life. Mustn't better sense prevail? (Apr 27). The article, in a philosophical vein, explains the sorry predicament of humanity. During the pandemic days, people had a feeling that better sense would prevail in society. We believed that people will shed their egos and have concern for their fellow beings. But unfortunately, we have become more competitive and unconcerned. The unceremonious exit of the US from Afghanistan, leaving the people unprotected, and the Russian invasion of Ukraine are ample testimonies that no lessons have been learnt from the pandemic.

Let leaders visit

As an alumni of Osmania University, I feel that the authorities should not object to the visit of Rahul Gandhi or any national leader. The visit would benefit the students and enhance their subject knowledge, especially those studying subjects like political science, public administration, law or history. Such interactions through workshops and seminars with national leaders to clarify the students' doubts would benefit them a lot. However, the visiting leaders should restrict themselves to subjects that were agreed with college authorities and shouldn't broach topics that may disturb the peaceful and learning environment of the university.

SC's move reassuring

At a time when communally charged atmosphere prevails and religious violence is on the rise in several parts of the country, the Supreme Court telling the Uttarakhand and Himachal governments to ensure peace and prevent hate speech is both timely and reassuring. Bringing in a whiff of fresh air, the welcome verdict should hopefully jolt the state administrations into swift action on a war footing to curb the increasing instances of such pre-meditated and well-orchestrated incidents.

B Suresh Kumar, Coimbatore

Defang hatemongers

The SC should be commended for directing Uttarakhand and Himachal to act against hatemongers. The court's denunciation of peddling communal hate in Dharam Sansad should deter fanatics from spreading religious hatred.

Will deal with world on own terms: EAM

Jaishankar says at Raisina Dialogue the 'idea of others defining us and we needing approval' has to be discarded

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

INDIA will engage with the world on its own terms and does not require anyone's approval to do so, External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar said at the Raisina Dialogue on Wednesday.

The minister's frank remarks came a few days after he made India's stance clear to several world leaders, including in the US, UK and the EU in the context of the Ukraine war.

"It is better to engage with the world on the basis of who we are than to please the world as a pale imitation of who they are. The idea of others defining us and we needing approval is something that we need to put behind us," Jaishankar said.

The EAM said there were three constraints India faced in the past which need correction. "First, we did not pay attention to our social indicators. Second, we did not pay attention to manufacturing and, third, foreign policy and hard security was not given much weight," said Jaishankar.

Former Prime Minister of Canada Stephen Harper paid rich tributes to India's pace of development. "We should take a moment to recognise what remarkable progress India has made. Of all the countries that have emerged, there are very few that have depicted the economic advancement, eradication of hunger and in many other areas."

Speaking about India at 75, Jaishankar said it would be pertinent if India looked at 25 years ahead and see where it had faltered. The next years should focus on globalisation and capacity building.

"We should not be looking at the world with a sense of entitlement. We need to earn our place in the world, which to a certain extent, comes to the issue of how the world benefits from the growth of India. We need to demonstrate that," Jaishankar pointed out.

Regarding Ukraine, the best way forward is to stop fighting and get the dialogue going.

The conclave also saw a brief discussion on "coercion" that countries like India faced from China. "While facing China, the West needs India more in an effort to repair the world order," said Velina Tchakarova, Director, Austrian Institute for European and Security Policy.

India during the past 75 years has played a key role in promoting democracy in South Asia.

"There was a time in this part of the world that we were pretty much the only democracy. If democracy is global today, I think in some measure, the credit is due to India," Jaishankar said.

India would like to see more prosperity in South Asia. If India has been in a sense an example of democracy in this region, we would now like to be part of a larger lifting tide so that the rest of South Asia grows with us, the EAM said.

Navy chief calls for cooperative approach

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

THE Indian Navy's Chief of Staff on Wednesday described the situation in the region as 'contested' which has made things challenging. "We are in a contested present and looking at an uncertain future," said Admiral R Hari Kumar.

The Chief of Naval Staff (CNS) was speaking at the Raisina Dialogue, which is a conference on geopolitics and geoeconomics. "It is impossible for any one country to ensure maritime security. Therefore, there is a need for co-operation, collaboration, interaction and interoperability so that collectively we can ensure peace for the benefit of our region."

He added that to enhance maritime security, countries must respond. "It helps in developing trust, information exchange, good practices and domain awareness."

Speaking at the conference, Admiral John C Aquilino, Commander of the US Pacific Command, mentioned the Russia-Ukraine conflict and added that Chinese comments have amplified concerns. "We are all concerned with what we watched in Ukraine. We watched unprovoked action to generate a war. This is a very concerning time from the lens of global security. It's amplified by the comments by the People's Republic of China with regard to no limits between those two nations. That gives me great concern."

Speaking on the war, Admiral Hari Kumar said Ukraine was doing better at the tactical level. "Superiority of weapons will always be there. We need to find ways and means of exploiting them to the best effect possible. That is what Ukraine is doing," he said.

Later, Admiral Hari Kumar met Admiral Aquilino. Indian Navy in a statement said, "Defence cooperation has been a critical element of Indo-US relations. Towards ensuring free, open and inclusive Indo-Pacific, both the Admirals discussed avenues to further enhance the existing cooperation between two Navies through capability enhancement and co-operative engagements."

Talking about Indo-Pacific, Admiral Aquilino said that the US along with its allies and partners is working for a conflict free Indo-Pacific region.

PM Modi on 3-nation trip from May 2-4, first stop Germany

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi will pay official visits to Germany, Denmark and France from May 2 to 4. This will be his first set of international trips in 2022.

His first stop will be Berlin, where he will hold bilateral talks with Chancellor Olaf Scholz. The two leaders will cochair the sixth edition of the India-Germany Inter-Governmental Consultations (IGC).

"The biennial IGC is a dialogue format that also sees participation of several ministers from both sides. This will be the Prime Minister's first IGC with Chancellor Scholz, and also the first such Government-to-Government consultation of the new German government, which assumed office in December 2021," said the Ministry of External Affairs.

Modi and Scholz will jointly address a business event and the PM is also expected to interact with the Indian community in Germany.

The PM's next stop will be Copenhagen. He will be there on the invitation of Danish PM Mette Frederiksen. Modi will also take part in the second India-Nordic Summit.

Other Nordic leaders who will attend the Summit include Iceland's Prime Minister Katrín Jakobsdóttir, Prime Minister Jonas Gahr Støre of Norway, Prime Minister Magdalena Andersson of Sweden and Prime Minister Sanna Marin of Finland. The Summit will focus on subjects like post-pandemic economic recovery, climate change, innovation and technology, renewable energy, the evolving global security scenario and India-Nordic cooperation in the Arctic region. The first India-Nordic Summit took place in 2018 in Stockholm. Modi will also meet Queen Margrethe II.

On the last day of his trip, Modi will meet newly re-elected President of France, Emmanuel Macron. India and France are celebrating 75 years of diplomatic relations this year.

G7 invitation

India is likely to get a formal invite to the G7 summit when PM Modi visits Berlin. "I am optimistic of India being invited to the G7, but the formal invite will come from our Chancellor, Olaf Scholz, when he meets PM Modi in Berlin on Monday," Germany's Minister of State, Dr Tobias Lindner told this daily on Wednesday.

Germany is looking at furthering its bilateral relations with India. "No major problem in the world can be solved without India. It is that significant globally. We in Germany would further strengthen our bilateral ties," Lindner said.

Cops foil Dharam Sansad in U'khand village, 33 detained

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Dehradun

THE Uttarakhand police on Wednesday stopped the proposed Dharam Sansad event at a Roorkee village by clamping prohibitory orders under Section 144. The move came a day after the Supreme Court warned state officials that they would be responsible for any objectionable speech made at the proposed Hindu Mahapanchayat/Dharam Sansad.

Haridwar Senior Superintendent of Police, Yogendra Singh Rawat said that Section 144 has been imposed in a five-km radius of Dada Jalalpur village near Roorkee. The police also detained 33 persons associated with the proposed event.

The village witnessed communal tension recently when a Hanuman Jayanti procession was pelted with stones on April 16.

The state police on Wednesday arrested a third accused in the Haridwar hate speech case. Dineshananda Bharti aka Sagar Sindhu Maharaj, convener of 'Kali Sena', a group that recently announced the recitation Hanuman Chalisa in Roorkee, was arrested and sent to judicial custody by the local court.

"Sagar Maharaj has been arrested pertaining to the alleged hate speech at a Dharam Sansad event. He was produced in court which ordered judicial custody," said Haridwar SP Swatantra Kumar Singh. The police have filed cases against five persons.

Apex med body officials face the sack over cash-for-clearance charges

SHAHID FARIDI @ New Delhi

THE CBI has initiated a probe into cash-for-clearance allegations against top officials of the National Medical Commission, the apex body that regulates medical education and medical professionals in India. Sources said the officials will soon be asked to put in their papers.

The CBI probe was initiated after Union health minister Mansukh Mandaviya ordered a cleanup in the process of granting approvals to private medical colleges. Sources said the minister received multiple complaints about rampant corruption involving officials of NMC and Medical Assessment and Rating Board.

The medical education sector has been mired in corruption for long. The government had to disband the earlier avatar of NMC, the Medical Council of India, due to endemic corruption. But it appears that brokers continue to operate brazenly in this sector.

The health ministry had earlier this month conducted surprise checks in private medical colleges across five states. During the raids it was found that colleges were stage-managing inspections and getting approvals without having proper infrastructure, faculty and other facilities required to run a medical college and hospital.

In one case, the raiding team was shocked to find the college did not have even the facilities for MBBS (undergraduate) courses while it was given the go-ahead to run PG courses. Another college was doing business for the past 18 years without basic facilities.

After PK no-show, Cong looks at meet for revival

RICHA SHARMA @New Delhi

A day after the Congress-Prashant Kishor break-up, the party was looking forward to its 'Chintan Shivir' in Rajasthan's Udaipur meant to devise a revival strategy.

While the much-hyped cancelled deal has left some unanswered questions on the party's planned organisational revamp, assembly polls in Gujarat and Himachal Pradesh could be the first litmus test for the grand old party.

With Rahul Gandhi on a personal visit abroad and general secretary Priyanka Gandhi Vadra scheduled to be on foreign travel later this week, party leaders are banking on the May 13-15 Udaipur meet. The party is scheduled to hold a Congress Working Committee (CWC) meeting soon to discuss the agenda for the Udaipur meeting and the issue of Kishor could come up for discussion.

Sources said the party needs to review various issues such as the outcome of the recently constituted empowered action group 2024, the fate of Patidar community leader Naresh Patel and the process of organisational restructuring. The party also needed to look for ways to replenish its funds kitty.

Digvijaya Singh, who was part of the eight-member strategy group on Kishor, said the party has to put its house in order, with or without a consultant. "I strongly believe that the Chintan Shivir would usher in a new Congress which is the need of the hour," he tweeted.

Many leaders feel the biggest test for the Congress is two state assembly elections later this year. In Gujarat, the party was banking on Kishor to get the influential Leuva Patel community leader Naresh Patel on its side, with the hope of some dividends in the Saurashtra region. Another Patidar leader, Hardik Patel has already publicly said that he has been sidelined by state leaders.

In Himachal Pradesh, where the party on Tuesday announced a team led by former state CM Virbhadra Singh's wife Pratibha Singh, the lack of focus and infighting could hamper its winning chances.

"We must put our act together and start working in poll-bound states. Kishor is a businessman and wouldn't have done anything for free. We would have paid him a huge sum. It's better to use that money for party purposes," said a party in-charge of a key state.

Unanswered questions after break-up

What happens to EAC: A day before the deal broke, Congress chief Sonia Gandhi constituted the 'Empowered Action Group 2024'. While the constitution was not announced, it was supposed to include all her lieutenants to plan for the party's revival. Also, post-PK, will G23 leaders be included in the group?

'Nehru-Gandhi family remains a powerhouse'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

VETERAN Congress leader A K Antony on Wednesday said a change of guard at the Centre is not possible without the grand old party playing a central role and that the Nehru-Gandhi family remains the guiding force of Congress.

Antony, who is shifting base to Kerala, hinted at entering state politics, saying that he wants to remain active and is withdrawing completely from national politics.

"Don't underestimate Congress. It will come back. Without Congress, you cannot think of a change of guard in Delhi," he said, adding that without the Gandhis, Congress won't be acceptable to 99 per cent of its workers across the country. Antony heads the party's disciplinary committee.

KV door opens for J&K migrants, Covid orphans

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @New Delhi

CHILDREN of Kashmiri migrants and children who have lost parents due to Covid-19 (under the PM CARES for Children Scheme) will get admissions in the 1,248 Kendriya Vidyalayas in the country, according to new guidelines issued by the Kendriya Vidyalaya Sangathan (KVS).

Under new guidelines, several discretionary admission quotas, including those belonging to MPs, have been scrapped. Officials said children who have lost their parents to Covid-19 won't have to pay fees. According to government data, over 4,000 children have been listed under this scheme.

Under new guidelines, 15 children of employees of the Research and Analysis Wing and 50 of Central Police Organisations can get admission.

SECTOR 29, CHANDIGARH

Rajya Sabha MP and senior BJP leader Sushil Kumar Modi, who had said that the 7,880 MP quota seats be scrapped, welcomed the move. "In a democracy, there should be no discrimination. If there there is no transparency, it will lead to corruption," he told this newspaper, which was the first to report on April 12 that the KVS had directed schools to "put on hold" 17 special provisions.

"This quota was not based on merit or reservation. Due to this, nearly 8,000 seats were getting blocked. Some MPs had asked for increasing the quota," Modi added.

However, Congress leader and MP Karti Chidambaram tweeted, "This is outrageous, taking away whatever little discretionary intervention tools an MP had." Each MP could recommend 10 children.

A KVS official, on condition of anonymity, said that the review was done because the quotas were disturbing the approved student strength per class. "It was seen that in one class, there were 70 students. This affected the quality of education and disturbed the pupil-teacher ratio." There are 14,35,562 KV students.

Apart from MP quota, other quotas removed include those for education ministry employees, children and dependent grandchildren of MPs and retired KV employees.

Vaccinating kids the priority now, PM tells chief ministers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

A day after India's drug regulator gave emergency use authorization to three Covid-19 vaccines for children, Prime Minister Narendra Modi told chief ministers that inoculating children is priority.

In a Covid-19 review meeting with chief ministers on Wednesday, the main concern was the rising cases among schoolchildren, especially in the Delhi-NCR regions.

"After a long break, schools have reopened. Parents are worried about the rise in cases in some places. There are reports from some schools that children have tested positive. However, it is satisfying that many children have received protection through the vaccines," he said. He was referring to children between 12-18 years being vaccinated in a phased manner.

The government is yet to start vaccinating children below 12. Modi said India's drug regulator has given permission to administer Covaxin for 6-12 years. The Drugs Controller General of India on Tuesday also gave emergency use nod to Biological E's vaccine Corbevax for those aged between five and 12 years. Permission was also given to Cadila for its ZyCoV-D as an additional dose with a two-jab schedule in the same age group.

Describing vaccines as a protective shield, the PM said, "It is our priority to vaccinate all the eligible child population. Special campaigns will be needed in schools. Teachers and parents should be aware of this."

Gehlot camp relieved over PK not joining Cong

Camp feared strategist might persuade high command to effect leadership changes in state in favour of rival Pilot

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

PRASHANT Kishor's farewell to Congress even before his entry to the party seems to have cheered up Rajasthan Chief Minister Ashok Gehlot's camp, which has been fearing that the poll strategist might persuade the high command to effect leadership changes in the state Congress in favour of rival Sachin Pilot.

Ever since Pilot met with Congress top leadership in Delhi recently, there had been a strong buzz that the Congress would undergo "big changes" in the state, based on PK's suggestions to the high command.

PK's entry was seen as an advantage to the Pilot camp. Sources claimed PK had suggested the high command to give prominence to young leaders in the party. Pilot loyalists saw this as a key to bring former deputy CM and state Congress president Sachin Pilot back to some crucial position before the Assembly elections next year. Despite the buzz about changes at the top level in Rajasthan, the sources claimed that the Gehlot camp is greatly relieved at PK's decision to stay away from the grand old party.

Gehlot camp's reservations with PK were clear when state technical education minister Subhash Garg, a close aide of the CM, targeted the strategist without naming him on Tuesday. Garg tweeted that "the party needs a Chanakya, not any trader or service provider. Only leadership and workers can make an outfit strong".

Even though Garg did not mention anyone in his tweet, his use of words like 'advisor', 'service provider' and 'trader' is seen as a direct reference to PK. Garg has been associated with Gehlot for a long time. Political pundits believe that no minister in the CM's camp will tweet in such a way without a political motive.

The sources said if Kishor had joined the Congress, it would have affected party's internal politics in Rajasthan. The state has seen a constant power struggle between Gehlot and Pilot camps like the one in Punjab. After two years of reconciliation between the two sides since Pilot's failed coup bid against Gehlot's leadership, there are signs of the tussle intensifying in the run up to next year's Assembly polls.

Both Gehlot and Pilot have recently met Sonia Gandhi. After meeting Sonia last Thursday, on a question of strategy and change of face in Rajasthan, Pilot said the same is being discussed and Sonia will make a call. Pilot's statement was seen as linked to the change of CM in Rajasthan. Gehlot, however, refuted this on Sunday by asking people not to fall for "rumours". Gehlot even said his resignation is "lying permanently" with Sonia.

Before attending PK's presentation meeting in Delhi last week, Gehlot had remarked that PK was just one expert and that there were many professionals in the field and that Congress should be in touch with various agencies.

Hooda's man is the new Haryana Congress chief

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chandigarh

PROVING yet again that he is the one who call the shots in Haryana Congress, former chief minister Bhupinder Singh Hooda has managed to get one of staunch loyalists named as the state president.

The Congress high command on Wednesday named former Hodal MLA and Scheduled Caste leader Uday Bhan as the president of its Haryana unit.

Also, the state unit will have four working presidents namely Shruti Choudhry, former MP and daughter of former state unit chief Kiran Choudhry; Ram Kishan Gujjar, Jitender Bhardwaj and Suresh Gupta. Meanwhile, Hooda will continue as leader of the Haryana Congress Legislature Party.

Bhan, a former Union minister, will replace Kumari Selja, who is also a Scheduled Caste leader. The changes were due for a long time. Selja had resigned the party chief post a few days back and Sonia Gandhi accepted the resignation with immediate effect.

Sources said the grand old party had two options – make Hooda the state unit chief if he resigns the post of leader of the Congress Legislative Party (CLP), or appoint another leader. However, Hooda did not agree to the first option as a majority of party legislators were backing him as the CLP leader. Hence, the high command went with the second option along with appointing working presidents.

The announcement came after a series of meetings between senior leaders from the state with the high command. Hooda had met Sonia recently. Last month Rahul Gandhi had a meeting with Hooda, Selja, Randeep Surjewala, Kiran Choudhry, Kuldeep Bishnoi and Deepender Hooda and other leaders.

Reacting to the fresh appointments, Hooda said it will strengthen the party as everyone will work together.

HANDWRITTEN LETTERS

Jaish threatens to kill Mann, blow up Punjab installations

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

PAKISTAN-based terror group Jaish-e-Mohammad (JeM) has allegedly threatened to kill Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Singh Mann and has warned to blow up railway stations, religious places and vital installations in the state, police sources said.

The alleged threats came in two letters delivered to the railway authorities on Wednesday at different places.

Police sources said the letters are written in rough handwriting and were delivered at Sultanpur Lodhi and Ferozepur railway stations.

The JeM letters warned that on May 21-23, they would blow up railway stations at Sultanpur Lodhi, Lohian Khas, Tarn Taran, Jalandhar and Ferozepur.

The targeted areas also included religious places such as Kali Mata Mandir in Patiala, Hanuman Mandir and Devi Talab Mandir at Jalandhar and other places. The letters also threatened to target Chief Minister Mann besides SAD leaders to avenge the "killing of terrorists."

Punjab's Special Director General of Police (Railways) Sanjeev Kalra acknowledged the two letters were received by the railway authorities. "We are investigating and are in process of registering a case. Last year too such threats were made," said Kalra.

Sources said the railway authorities have handed these letters to the Government Railway Police.

Railway station on the list

The JeM letters warned that on May 21-23, they would blow up railway stations at Sultanpur Lodhi, Lohian Khas, Tarn Taran, Jalandhar and Ferozepur. The targeted areas also included religious places such as Kali Mata Mandir in Patiala, Hanuman Mandir and Devi Talab Mandir at Jalandhar and other places.

Gupkar should unitedly contest J&K polls: Omar

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

Omar Abdullah addresses a National Conference event in Srinagar | ZAHOOR PUNJABI

FORMER Jammu and Kashmir chief minister and National Conference vice president Omar Abdullah on Wednesday suggested that the five-party Gupkar Alliance should form a united front to contest the forthcoming Assembly polls in the Union Territory to "keep the BJP and its A and B teams at bay".

"I personally suggest that the Gupkar Alliance should unitedly contest the forthcoming Assembly polls in J&K. If they seek my advice, I would suggest that we unitedly contest the polls," Omar told reporters on the sidelines of his party's youth convention in Srinagar on Wednesday.

He said Gupkar Alliance should not allow the BJP and its "A and B teams" to create division of votes.

"However, it is my suggestion. The decision has to be taken by Gupkar Alliance. What decision they take, I don't know," Omar said.

Another former CM Mehbooba Mufti's PDP is also in favour of Gupkar Alliance fighting the upcoming Assembly elections in unison.

A PDP leader said his party is in favour of Gupkar parties unitedly contesting the Assembly polls. He said the alliance contesting unitedly and forging tactical understanding with Congress is the only way out to keep the BJP out.

In Jammu, according to the PDP leader, Congress is the only party that can take on BJP. "Neither PDP nor NC can take BJP head-on in Jammu. Congress is the only party that can pose a challenge there, and Valley-based parties should enter into a tactical understanding with the Congress.

Reacting to Omar's suggestion, BJP spokesman Altaf Thakur termed it another ploy to continue the "family rule" in J&K. "It is clear that Omar and his party are unnerved by Prime Minister Narendera Modi's recent mega rally in Samba. Now he is afraid of the growing acceptance of BJP and Modi in J&K," Thakur said.

Khargone villages feel heat of hate

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

THE echoes of Ram Navami communal clashes in Madhya Pradeh's Khargone seem to be reverberating in the rural areas of the district. In a sign that the clashes could have long-term effects elsewhere, two videos, apparently from villages in the aftermath of the violence, are doing the rounds.

One of them shows women of a particular community taking an oath to boycott services from the other community, while the second video shows a DJ music vehicle appealing a particular section to commercially boycott the other section for throwing stones on religious procession and setting ablaze houses of one community.

In the first video, which possibly pertains to a religious programme in Katargaon village, a female religious leader is seen rendering oath to couples and a large gathering of young girls and women to not buy from or sell to "vidharmis (herectics)".

The other video from Ubadi village of the same district shows a moving around, appealing a particular community to give a "befitting reply" to the other community. "Give them a befitting reply by boycotting them commercially,"

"The video of a DJ vehicle making hate appeal has been verified. A case of promoting enmity has been registered against unidentified persons. The police are trying to verify the other video," In-charge SP Rohit Kashwani said.

GIRL RESCUED

'SACRIFICE' BID TO FIND TREASURE FOILED BY COPS

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

IT was a murder not to be. A sexually exploited teenage girl in Yavatmal district of Maharashtra overheard a conversation her father had with a 'tantric' planning her 'sacrifice' for a hidden treasure buried in a corner of their house.

The girl took pictures of the pit and sent them to her friend who lodged a complaint with the police leading to the arrest of the girl's father and the 'tantric'.

The police on Wednesday registered a case under Sections 307 (attempt to murder), 376 (rape) and other relevant provisions of the Indian Penal Code, a district police officer said.

The police have also arrested nine people, including the girl's father, for performing 'black magic' and allegedly attempting to kill the 18-year-old girl.

"The accused, who had two daughters, allegedly sexually exploited and threatened the eldest daughter and tried to 'sacrifice' her to get the hidden treasure," Superintendent of Police Yavatmal Dilip Bhujbal Patil said.

The girl was staying at an uncle's place for studies and had returned to her house during school holidays.

"One day, her father brought several people, including a tantric, to perform puja. He told his elder daughter to stay with them. Then, he asked his younger daughter and wife to remain in the kitchen area. They performed some rituals and even garlanded the girl and started digging the pit in a room of the house in the hope of getting a hidden treasure," said the police.

The man threatened to kill his two daughters and wife if they raised the alarm.

The accused was performing tantric rituals at home over the last few days, said the police.

"The girl had overheard the conversation her father had with the tantric. She took pictures of the pit and shared them with her friend," said the police.

She sent out the message that she was to be buried in the pit as a part of the ritual and requested help.

"Her friend alerted the police and the girl was rescued," said the police.

Final hearing on sedition law on May 5, says SC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Wednesday listed the pleas challenging the constitutional validity of Section 124A (sedition) in the Indian Penal Code, 1860 for final hearing without adjournment on May 5.

When Solicitor General Tushar Mehta, appearing for the Centre, sought some time for filing the counter, a three-judge bench led by Chief Justice N V Ramana granted him four days. The SC was hearing pleas by the Editors Guild of India and former Army officer Major General S G Vombatkere challenging the sedition law.

Senior advocate Kapil Sibal appeared for the petitioners. When a couple of advocates mentioned similar petitions pending with the SC against sedition saying they had not been listed, the CJI asked if it was necessary to multiply petitions on the same point of law and delay the matter.

While issuing notice in 2021 on the petitions, Justice Ramana had remarked, "The enormous power of this section can be compared to a carpenter being given a saw to make an item, uses it to cut the entire forest instead of a tree."

Realignment works on as ropeway delayed

The much hyped ropeway project of Varanasi to decongest the holy city's traffic system has failed to take off. No developer has taken part in the bidding process despite the dates being repeatedly extended by Varanasi Development Authority (VDA). Taking advantage of the situation, the VDA is working on the realignment of the project due to underground pipelines and other assets. Shifting these pipelines and other underground assets for construction of pillars of the ropeway can be time-taking. Hence, it was decided to adopt a new alignment for which no such shifting is required. Once realised, the PM's constituency would become the first city in the country to have a ropeway.

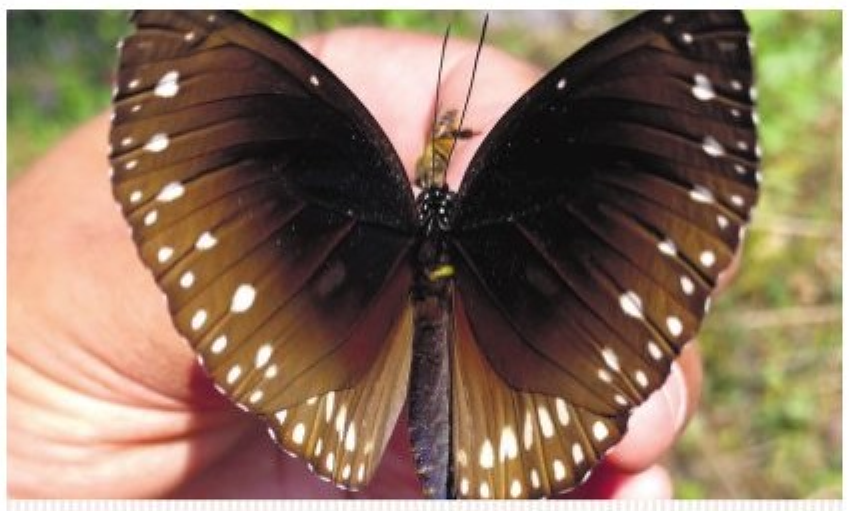
Leaders ask farmers to tread with caution

With saffron-flavoured winds blowing in UP, the tone and tenor of farmer leaders have also mellowed. They seem to be on correction course. BKU chief Naresh Tikait has appealed to the UP government, led by Yogi Adityanath, not to be vindictive. He has also cautioned his cadre against wasting time by sitting on dharnas. He has asked them to sit with authorities instead to get problems resolved rather than jamming roads on trivial issues. Ready to relinquish the path of clash, farmer leader seems to have made peace with BJP's surge in recently concluded polls in four states and now wants to adopt the path of dialogue and understanding.

Yogi acts tough on ministers involving kin in works

UP CM Yogi Adityanath has put forth strict guidelines for the state's ministers and bureaucrats. Besides submitting details of their assets within three months, ministers have specifically been asked not to involve any of their family members in government works. Insiders say that while this move will dissuade the practice of keeping one's kin as officer on special duty in addition to the secretariat staff all the ministers are entitled to, the decision is especially targeted at two ministers. The son of one of them had not started sitting in the official meetings called by his father. The son of the other takes active interest in running his mother's ministry.



Uttarakhand adds new species to its butterfly treasure trove

Dehradun: Uttarakhand's treasure trove of butterflies has got richer with the addition of a new species. A research scholar from the state forest department discovered, for the first time, a butterfly named King Crow (Euploea klugii), which is found in areas from Central Nepal to Northeast India, Gujarat, West Bengal, Bihar, Sri Lanka and Thailand. "In November 2021, a butterfly survey was conducted in Bhujiyaghat area which has subtropical evergreen forests and lies in between Haldwani and Jeolikote in the Shivalik range of the Himalayas. The area is surrounded by mountains and lies in a valley; therefore it has a humid and warm climate suitable for tropical flora and fauna. While conducting the butterfly survey, a male King Crow butterfly was photographed," said Ambica Agnihotri, the researcher who spotted the species. ENS

RJD, JD-U merger offer ahead of Iftar meeting

RAMASHANKAR @Patna

BIHAR politics has become much livelier with the Ramzan season this year as Iftar meetings organised by political leaders are adding fresh hues to the political contours of the state.

A few days after Chief Minister Nitish Kumar attended an Iftar party hosted by arch rival RJD, the latter on Wednesday made an offer to the JD-U supremo to merge his party with the RJD to strengthen the ideology of "social justice", which is a recurring theme used by Nitish.

The offer came from none other than RJD state president Jagadanand Singh, whose younger son Ajeet Singh had joined the JD-U on April 12. Jagadanand is considered close to RJD national president Lalu Prasad, who is expected to arrive in Patna after being released on bail by a Ranchi court in a fodder scam case.

When asked about the role of Nitish in the "merged outfit", Jagadanand said the RJD top leadership would decide Nitish's role after the merger of JD-U with RJD. "Nitish should first step down from the CM post and accept RJD's leadership," he said.

The RJD state chief offered the merger a day ahead of an Iftar party hosted by JDU's minority cell. The list of invitees includes Lalu Prasad, his wife Rabri Devi.

JD-U's minority cell state president Salim Parvez said, "Not only chairman of Bihar legislative council Awadesh Narayan Singh but also CM Nitish Kumar will be happy if Lalu Prasad attends the feast."

Russia hits West-supplied arms, cuts gas to Poland, Bulgaria

Gas supply disruption an attempted blackmail, say EU countries | Russian forces push deeper into east as Moscow intensifies offensive to take control of Donbas

KHARKIV

RUSSIA on Wednesday said it had destroyed a large quantity of Western-supplied weapons in Ukraine, while halting gas supplies to EU and NATO members Poland and Bulgaria in a move condemned by European capitals as attempted blackmail.

With the conflict that has claimed thousands of lives entering its third month, Ukraine conceded Russian forces had pushed deeper into the country's east and captured several villages, as Moscow intensifies a renewed offensive to take control of Donbas.

Russia's defence ministry said its forces targeted the "large batch" of weapons and ammunition supplied by the United States and European countries using long-range missile strikes on southeastern Ukraine.

> I want to emphasise again that all the tasks of the special military operation we are conducting in Donbas and Ukraine, launched on February 24, will be unconditionally fulfilled. That will guarantee the security of the residents of eastern Ukraine and our entire country
>
> Vladimir Putin, Russian President

They hit hangars at an aluminium plant near the Ukrainian city of Zaporizhzhia with "high-precision long-range sea-based Kalibr missiles", the ministry said, without specifying the weapons destroyed.

It comes a day after a summit in Germany of 40 Western allies to discuss arming Ukraine where Washington pledged to move "heaven and earth" to enable Kyiv to emerge victorious from the war.

Tensions are also rising in a breakaway region of Moldova bordering southwestern Ukraine where pro-Russian separatists claimed shots were fired across the border towards a village housing a Russian arms depot after drones flew over from Ukraine.

The unrecognised Transnistria region has reported a series of explosions in recent days that it called "terrorist attacks", leading Kyiv to accuse Moscow of seeking to expand the war further into Europe.

Russia releases US Marine vet in prisoner exchange

Washington: Russia and the United States have carried out a dramatic prisoner exchange, trading a Marine veteran jailed by Moscow for a convicted Russian drug trafficker serving a long prison sentence in America. The surprise deal involving Trevor Reed, an American imprisoned for nearly three years, would have been a notable diplomatic manoeuvre even in times of peace, but it was all the more extraordinary because it was done as the Ukraine invasion has driven relations with the US to their lowest point in decades. However, Biden administration cautioned that the exchange did not represent a change to the US' condemnation of Russia's violence against Ukraine. AP

Russia said it had stopped all gas supplies to Poland and highly-dependent Bulgaria as a result of "unprecedented unfriendly steps in the economic sphere" and their refusal to pay in rubles.

President Vladimir Putin last month warned Moscow will only accept payment for deliveries in its national currency, with buyers required to set up ruble accounts or have their taps turned off. Moscow is grappling with the fallout from numerous rounds of European and US sanctions that have targeted various sectors and left it unable to utilise foreign currency, including its own reserves.

"They blocked from us — or, to put it plainly, stole — a fairly significant amount of our reserves," Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov told reporters on the need for the "new payment system".

"So there is no question of blackmail here," he added.

But the EU said it was "prepared" for the stoppage and was planning a "coordinated" response, labelling it "another attempt by Russia to blackmail us with gas".

Prime Minister Mateusz Morawiecki called it "a direct attack" on Poland, while Bulgarian leader Kiril Petkov described the move as "a gross violation" of its contract with Russian energy giant Gazprom.

Both countries have said they will be able to make up the shortfall from other sources.

The war has exposed the extent of the 27-member bloc's dependence on Russian gas, which accounts for 45 percent of such imports.

The EU's executive proposed suspending all import duties on products from Ukraine in a bid to help the country's economy survive. AFP

Israeli strike on Syria kills 4 soldiers, wounds 3

DAMASCUS

AN ISRAELI missile attack on suburbs of the Syrian capital Damascus killed four soldiers and wounded three others, the Defense Ministry said on Wednesday. The ministry said earlier in the day that the missiles were fired from northern Israel shortly after midnight and that most of them were shot down.

The ministry said the attack on the suburbs of Damascus caused material damage, but gave no further details. The attacks came hours after the Israeli military said an Israeli drone crashed on the Syrian side of the border Tuesday, adding that an investigation was opened into the case.

The Britain-based Syrian Observatory for Human Rights, an opposition war monitor, said the strikes on several suburbs of Damascus hit arms depots for Iran-backed groups.

There was no comment from the Israeli military on the attacks near Damascus. It was the latest attack on Syria since April 14, when several missiles hit Syrian army positions near Damascus.

Israel has staged hundreds of strikes on targets in Syria over the years but rarely acknowledges or discusses such operations. It has acknowledged, however, that it targets the bases of Iran-allied militias, such as Lebanon's Hezbollah group that has fighters deployed in Syria. It says it attacks arms shipments believed to be bound for the militias. AP

Lankan prez ready to discuss formation of all-party govt

COLOMBO

SRI Lanka's embattled President Gotabaya Rajapaksa on Wednesday called for a meeting of political parties on April 29 to discuss the possible formation of an all-party government to end the protracted impasse in the country.

The move comes amidst mounting pressure on Prime Minister Mahinda Rajapaksa to resign to and make way for an interim government.

A letter to all party leaders in the ruling coalition said the government was in agreement to form an all-party government comprising parties represented in Parliament, according to a statement.

The meeting will discuss the new arrangement after the resignation of the prime minister, the statement said.

Senior cop arrested over protester's death

Colombo: A top Sri Lankan police officer was arrested on Wednesday after ordering his subordinates to fire on anti-government protesters, in clashes that left one man dead and nearly 30 others wounded. Last week's demonstration in Rambukkana was one of many around the country protesting a rise in fuel prices.

However, the statement from the President Gotabaya Rajapaksa is in contrast to the position taken by the prime minister, who has declined to resign. He has also said any interim government can be formed only under his leadership. Both the President and the Prime Minister are under mounting pressure from fierce public protests demanding his resignation for mishandling the country's worst economic crisis.

Debt-ridden Sri Lanka is grappling with an unprecedented economic turmoil since its independence from Britain in 1948. The crisis is caused in part by a lack of foreign currency, which has meant that the country cannot afford to pay for imports of staple foods and fuel, leading to acute shortages and very high prices.

Mass anti-government protests demanding the resignation of the entire Rajapaksa family have been going on for more than two weeks.

In recent weeks, prominent businesses and other professional organisations have repeated the call for an interim government. PTI

SINGAPORE

Mentally challenged Malaysian hanged

Singapore: Nagaenthran Dharmalingam, a mentally challenged Indian-origin Malaysian man found guilty of drug trafficking, was executed in Singapore on Wednesday, his family said, after a top court dismissed a last-ditch legal challenge from his mother in a controversial case that caught global attention and attracted calls for clemency. Dharmalingam, 34, was arrested in 2009 for trafficking 42.72g of heroin into Singapore, which has some of the world's toughest drugs laws, and was handed a death sentence the following year. He was caught at Woodlands Checkpoint. His brother Navin Kumar told Malaysia's national news agency Bernama the execution was carried out on Wednesday morning and the funeral would be held in the town of Ipoh in Malaysia. PTI

MYANMAR

Suu Kyi sent to 5 years in jail for corruption

Bangkok: A court in military-ruled Myanmar convicted the country's former leader Aung San Suu Kyi of corruption and sentenced her to five years in prison on Wednesday in the first of several corruption cases against her. Suu Kyi, who was ousted by an army takeover last year, had denied the allegation that she had accepted gold and hundreds of thousands of dollars given her as a bribe by a top political colleague. Her supporters and independent legal experts consider her prosecution an unjust move to discredit Suu Kyi and legitimise the military's seizure of power while keeping the 76-year-old elected leader from returning to an active role in politics. She has already been sentenced to six years imprisonment in other cases and faces 10 more corruption charges. The maximum punishment under the Anti-Corruption Act is 15 years in prison and a fine. AP

Over 20 killed in anti-Muslim attack in Ethiopia

ADDIS ABABA

MORE than 20 people have been killed in an attack on Muslims in the northern Ethiopian city of Gondar during the funeral of a Muslim elder, a local Islamic group said on Wednesday.

The Islamic Affairs Council of Amhara, the region where Gondar is located, described Tuesday's attack at a cemetery as a "massacre" by heavily-armed "extremist Christians."

The attackers "fired a barrage of heavy machine guns and grenades... leaving many dead while others who were injured have been taken to hospital," the religious body said.

"More than 20 have died due to yesterday's attack which also saw the looting of Muslim properties," it added.

The mayor of Gondar, Zewdu Malede, told Ethiopian public broadcaster EBC that the "incident was carried out by few extremist individuals."

"There has been some destruction and loss of lives from all sides," he said, without offering further details about the identity of the attackers or the victims.

"The situation was (brought) under control by 7:00 pm."

Officials at the Amhara regional government could not be reached while Gondar police declined to comment. AFP

UK finance minister Rishi Sunak cleared of ethics breach

LONDON

THE British government's ethics advisor said on Wednesday he had cleared embattled finance minister Rishi Sunak of breaching ministerial codes after investigating his family's tax affairs.

The chancellor of the exchequer earlier this month asked the advisor on ministerial standards, Christopher Geidt, to review whether he followed all the rules after revelations about his family's financial affairs stoked political controversy.

"I advise that the requirements of the ministerial code have been adhered to by the Chancellor, and that he has been assiduous in meeting his obligations and in engaging with this investigation," Geidt wrote. Geidt also ruled that there was no conflict of interest in Sunak holding a US permanent resident Green Card, which he has since given up. In a letter to PM Boris Johnson, Sunak had requested that Geidt assess his declarations of interest since he first became a minister in 2018. A political storm erupted after it was leaked that Sunak's wealthy Indian wife has benefited from "non-domicile" tax status in the UK, shielding her overseas income from taxes at a time when they are rising for most Britons. After initially claiming his spouse Akshata Murty — whose father co-founded the Indian IT behemoth Infosys — was the victim of a smear campaign, the couple U-turned and vowed she would pay British taxes on all her global income. Sunak was nevertheless accused of hypocrisy for raising taxes for Britons in the middle of a cost-of-living crisis, while his own family has seen millions of pounds in Infosys dividends shielded from his own ministry. Sunak is believed to be Britain's richest member of parliament. AFP

Will curb takeover of prison wings: UK

London: The UK government on Wednesday said it will clamp down on "no-go" areas in jails carved out by extremist Islamist inmates who have been imposing Sharia law including floggings on other prisoners. Revised LIC offer attractive, says DIPAM Secy

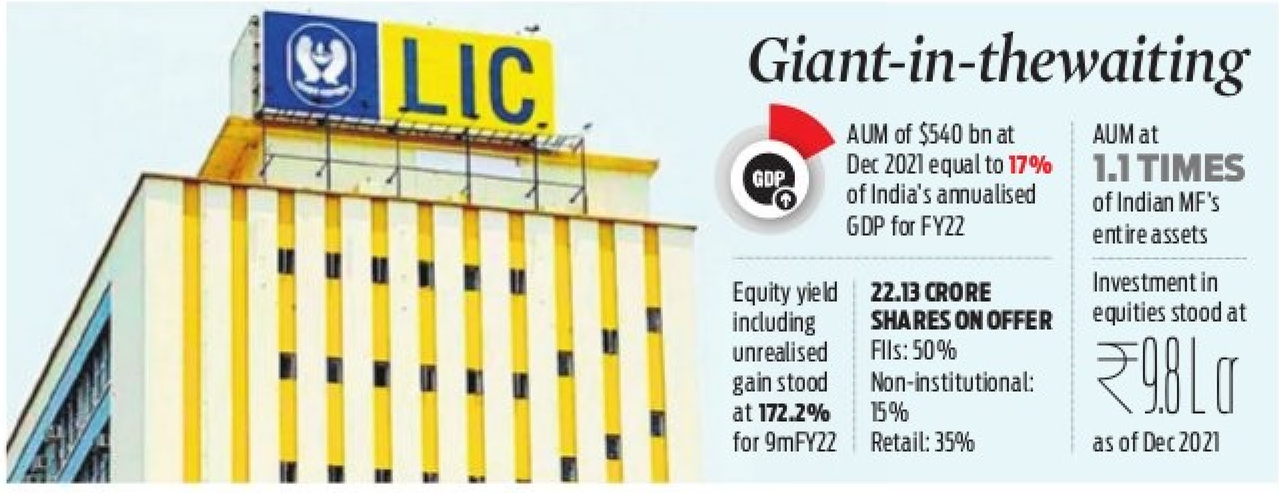
Policyholders to get discount of ₹60 per share, while retail and LIC employees to get discount of ₹45 a share each

RAM SAHGAL @Mumbai

LOWERING of size and valuation of the LIC IPO has made the offer "more attractive" for investors and was done keeping in mind the extant market situation and "strong demand" by domestic investors, said Tuhin Kanta Pandey, secretary DIPAM, answering queries on the reduction in the offer size and valuation. The issue will open on May 4 and close on May 9.

"The optimal size (of the offer) is dependent on the situation you're in," Pandey said, adding that, "not doing things is the easiest," after being asked whether better timing for the offer wouldn't have been more expedient.

Foreign institutional investors (FIIs) have sold shares worth $2.1 bn so far this month, after selling $5.4 bn in March amid Russia's invasion on Ukraine and expectations of front loading of rate hikes in the US to rein in decadal high retail price inflation.



Giant-in-thewaiting

AUM of $540 bn at Dec 2021 equal to 17% of India's annualised GDP for FY22

AUM at 1.1 TIMES of Indian MF's entire assets

Equity yield including unrealised gain stood at 172.2% for 9mFY22

22.13 CRORE SHARES ON OFFER
FIIs: 50%
Non-institutional: 15%
Retail: 35%

Investment in equities stood at ₹9.8L cr as of Dec 2021

Against the February DRHP, the revised LIC offer size is 3.5% (₹21,000 crore) with a price band of ₹902-949 a share, valuing the company at ₹6 lakh crore against the earlier size of 5% (₹67,500 crore), valuing the company at an estimated ₹13.5lakh crore at the upper band of over ₹2000 apiece.

On the lower price to embedded value of 1.1 times compared to rivals like SBI Life, HDFC Life and ICICI Pru, Pandey said that, "over a period of time the multiple of the rivals would decline as their embedded values grew." Embedded value is the present value of future profits, a key valuation metric in the life space.

The price to embedded value on a one year forward basis for SBI Life is 2.1x, HDFC Life at 2.6x and ICICI Pru Life at 1.2x, as per Religare Broking.

However, LIC's embedded value rose from ₹95,700 crore at the end of FY21 to ₹5.39 lakh crore at the end of H1FY22, post segregation of policy-holders funds. This was significantly larger than the embedded value of peers during the period under review, with SBI Life's embedded value on effective tax rate basis at ₹35,290 crore, HDFC Life's ₹28,703 crore and that of ICICI Pru Life's at ₹30,200 crore.

Pandey cited that in FY21 LIC had a 66% new business premium market share, ahead of SBI Life and HDFC Life, with a 7% market share each, and ICICI Pru Life's 5%. New business premium is the premium earned from new policies in a particular year.

Based on assets under management also, LIC was ahead of its rivals, Pandey said, citing LIC's $540 bn asset under management (AUM) as of end-December 2021, which was 15.6 times that of second-largest player SBI Life's $34.6 bn, HDFC Life's ($26.2 bn) and ICICI Pru Life's $32bn.

Of the 22.13 crore shares on offer, a maximum of 50% would be allocated to qualified institutional buyers, 15% for non-institutional bidders and 35% for retail investors.

Policy holders will get a discount of ₹60 per share and retail and LIC employees will get a discount of ₹45 a share each.

This means if a retail investor is also a policyholder and an employee, she can bid under all three categories separately up to an aggregate ₹6 lakh (₹2 lakh under each category net of discount).

TAXES ON FUEL

'GOVT SHOULD CUT EXCISE TO PRE-COVID LEVEL'

RAKESH KUMAR @NewDelhi

EVEN as Prime Minister Narendra Modi gets into the debate on who (states or the Centre) should cut taxes on fuel, many economists believe central government has some scope to cut further taxes to bring it to prepandemic levels.

Centre collects ₹27.9 as excise duty on every litre of petrol and ₹21.80 on diesel, which is still higher than the pre-pandemic levels. Though the government has reduced excise by ₹5 on petrol and ₹10 on diesel, the reduction is less than the total increase in excise of ₹13 a litre on petrol and ₹16 a litre on diesel in 2020.

In the recent Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) meeting, one of the MPC members, Ashima Goyal , had opined that there was room to cut fuel taxes to mitigate the pass-through of international prices to consumers. "Excise duty could go back to 2019 levels that were high enough to limit oil consumption," Goyal had said in her statement.

Prashant Vashisht, vice-president of Corporate Ratings, ICRA, also believes that there is scope for the centre to cut down further taxes to bring it to pre-pandemic levels. He, though, points out that when the Centre had reduced taxes in November 2021, not all states had cut the rates, which he says they should.

The prime minister on Wednesday asked states such as Maharashtra, West Bengal, Telangana, Andhra Pradesh, Tamil Nadu, Jharkhand and Rajasthan to reduce VAT on fuel.

Maharashtra, where petrol price is the highest at ₹120.5 a litre, the state collects ₹32.22 as taxes (as against ₹27.9 by Centre). Telangana collects ₹31.2, Rajasthan Rs ₹29.73, West Bengal collects ₹26.82, Andhra ₹22.55 as taxes from petrol.

Other states like Delhi collects ₹17.13, Uttar Pradesh ₹16.95, Madhya Pradesh ₹29.84 and Karnataka ₹22.79 as taxes from petrol.

However, the total tax revenue collected by Centre from the petroleum sector (including customs duty, cess, etc) has increased 233% since 2014-15 to ₹4.20 lakh crore in 2020-21. During the same time tax revenue of states from these products has increased only 36% to ₹2.2 lakh crore.

Govt to hold talks with Infy, IT union over new clause

SAMIKSHA GOEL @ New Delhi

RESPONDING to IT employees' union NITES' complaint on the non-compete clause added by Infosys in its offer letters, labour ministry has decided to hold a tripartite joint discussion on the issue on Thursday, April 28.

The ministry had issued a notice on April 22, addressing Infosys HR head and the president of the Pune-based union, In this regard. The notice, seen by The New Indian Express, said, "It has been decided to hold a joint discussion on the issue belore the Chief Labour Commissioner (Central), Ministry of Labour & Employment, Govt. of India at 3 pm on 28.04.2022." Nascent Information Technology Employees Senate (NITES) had earlier filed a complaint with the ministry against Infosys seeking removal of the clause from its offer letter, which bans employees from working for the same customer in rival firms such as TCS, Accenture, IBM, Cognizant, and Wipro for six months after termination of employment.

The union claimed to have received complaints from employees of the company. The IT major's contract states that for six months following the termination of employment, the employee won't accept a job offer from any customer with whom they had worked in a professional capacity.

Air India proposes to buy Air Asia's remaining stake

ARSHAD KHAN @NewDelhi

IN what could be Tata Group's first move to consolidate its airline operations, Air India, which was recently acquired by the conglomerate, has proposed to buy the no-frills carrier AirAsia India's entire stake.

"The proposed combination relates to the acquisition of the entire equity share capital of AirAsia (India) Private Limited (Air Asia India/ Target), by Air India Ltd (AIL), an wholly owned subsidiary of Tata Sons," said a notice filed with the CCI.

Tata Sons owns 83.67% stake in AirAsia India and the remaining stake is with AirAsia Investment Ltd (AAIL), which is part of Malaysia's AirAsia Group. Tata is expected to buy the remaining 16.33% stake and take full ownership of the airline. Besides, Tata operates full-service airline Vistara in a joint venture with Singapore Airlines.

Tata owns 51% stake in Vistara while the remaining 49% is owned by Singapore Airline. There are wide speculations in the market Vistara would also be integrated in future. Deals beyond a certain threshold needs the approval of CCI, the regulator that curbs anti-competitive practices.

As per the notice filed with the CCI, Air India said the proposed combination will not lead to any change in the competitive landscape or cause any adverse effect on competition in India, irrespective of the manner in which the relevant markets are defined. However, the combination will lead to overlaps in operations in certain markets.

Full service carrier Air India (AIL) and its low-cost subsidiary Air India Express were acquired by Talace, a subsidiary of Tata Sons, in December last year for ₹18,000 crore.

Taskmo to get $20-25 million in Series B funding round

UMA KANNAN @Bengaluru

B2B gig marketplace Taskmo is all set to raise $20-$25 million in a Series B round. The Quess Corp investee company is in talks with investors, and in the first quarter of calendar year 2023, it wants to explore the international market beginning with Southeast Asia.

In an interaction with TNIE, Prashant Janadri, co-founder, Taskmo, said, "We are looking at 3-4X growth and targeting ₹100 crore annual recurring revenue (ARR) by end of this fiscal. Within this quarter, we want to increase our number of gig taskers/workers to 10 lakh from the present 7.5 lakh."

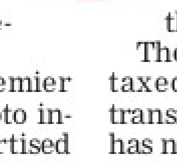
It also has an ambitious plan of increasing the number of gig workers to 50 lakh soon. Taskmo leverages technology to screen, train, manage and deploy white, blue and purple collar professionals. It has completed 1 million tasks and its workers work across 4,000 pin codes. Last year, private sector employer Quess Corp picked up a 49% stake in Taskmo at a valuation of ₹10 crore. Gig economy plays a crucial part, as per estimates there are over 15 million gig workers in India, and they work across sectors such as IT, finance and arts. By 2025, it is estimated that there will be over 350 million gig jobs. The firm has built all its training models in the vernacular languages, and it sees a rising number of gig workers from tier-2&3 cities. "Of our 7.5 lakh gig taskers, over 2.25 lakh are women. We are facilitating many tasks so people can build their own profile and perform a task by sitting at home or elsewhere," he adds.

Centre gets complaints against crypto exchanges

MONIKA YADAV @NewDelhi

THE government has received a considerable number of complaints against cryptocurrency exchanges after many people failed to get back their money, which they invested in virtual currencies like bitcoins, even after repeated attempts, as per sources familiar with the matter.

Many ministries including finance, home affairs and consumer affairs have been receiving complaints against these exchanges lately for not answering the traders' requests for refund of their money.



"In the past Indian Premier League (IPL), many crypto investment platforms advertised massively, leading to significant rise in investment in bitcoins. Many people who had put in their money in these currencies are not able to get back their money as this is unregulated sector. There is no redressal mechanism if someone is duped of money," a person familiar with the matter, requesting anonymity, told TNIE. According to sources in the know, a huge sum of money is stuck with these exchanges, which is quite worrisome.

According to the insiders who directly deal with the government, finance ministry is weighing three-four options to monitor cryptos. Either they can put complete ban on its trading or they can put partial ban. They can also partially regulate the trading in crypto or completely regulate it by involving SEBI and the RBI.

Though the government has taxed income from crypto transfers at 30% from April 1, it has not taken any stance on its regulation. Recently, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman, in Washington, had raised concerns of money laundering and illegal funding including terrorism via cryptos. She said India would take a considerate decision on crypto regulation.

RASHID KHAN FOR GUJARAT

Umran's breathtaking spell a highlight but all-rounder corners glory with last over sixes

GOMESH S @ Chennai

WHEN Sunrisers Hyderabad spent ₹6.50 crores in buying Abhishek Sharma at the auction this year, they knew what they were getting into. After all, they had traded him from the then Delhi Daredevils in 2019 and had consistently backed him since. However, they had used him largely in the middle-order, before making him open in the fag end of the 2021 season.

Knowing what he is capable of, Hyderabad started with him and captain Kane Williamson this season. The first two games were a failure. Scores of 9 and 13 from Abhishek did not inspire much confidence, at least from outside, especially with someone like Washington Sundar hovering in the lower-order. But, just like the auction, Hyderabad knew what they were doing and persisted with Abhishek, who hit a match-winning fifty in their third game. Since then, he has had three 30-plus scores in four games.

TODAY'S MATCH
DC vs KKR
LIVE ON STAR SPORTS AT 7.30 PM, MUMBAI

Hyderabad was winning, but that didn't mean there weren't any issues. With Williamson struggling for form, the pressure was on Abhishek to carry the momentum forward against Gujarat Titans on Wednesday. Abhishek delivered with a fifty but that was not enough as Rashid Khan and Rahul Tewatia helped Gujarat pull off a win from the jaws of defeat.

After Hyderabad were put into bat, Abhishek was in for a ride as Mohammed Shami almost castled his stumps on the very first delivery. The ball was leaving Shami's hand like a dream with the upright seam hitting the pitch and moving both ways. Hyderabad got ten runs from wide-byes, but Abhishek hardly put bat on the ball. He could have got out at least twice in that over before getting off the mark. Abhishek held his nerve to get to the other end and against Yash Dayal, he found his feet, swatting the left-arm pacer for a couple of boundaries through the off-side. While Shami had the last laugh in the mini-battle against Rahul Tripathi at the other end, Abhishek did not get flustered. He welcomed Alzarri Joseph with back-to-back fours.

Although he played out Rashid Khan's first over, he smashed the leg-spinner over long-on for a six. With Aiden Markran handling the pacers, the onslaught continued as he repeated a very similar shot twice in Rashid's next over, this time over the cow corner. Another shot over covers followed a couple of overs later as he was picking googlies out of the hand After all, Abhishek had spent the past three years playing Rashid in Hyderabad nets. A well made 42-ball 65, a knock that helped Hyderabad finish with 195 for six.

In reply, Gujarat made a healthy start with Wriddhiman Saha scoring freely. However, Umran Malik was unplayable on the day as he picked up five wickets, tilting the match in Hyderabad's favour. Rahul Tewatia (40 n.o off 21) and Rashid Khan (31 n.o off 11) had other ideas though, playing a blinder to help team over the line.

Brief scores: SRH 195/6 in 20 ovs (Abhishek 65, Markram 56) lost to GT 199/5 in 20 ovs (Saha 68, Tewatia 40 n.o, Rashid 31 n.o; Umran 5/25).

Phased rest for Indians in lead up to WC

VENKATA KRISHNA B @ Chennai

ALTHOUGH India's next series against South Africa begins only 10 days after the IPL final, the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) is unlikely to rest the regular players for the five T20Is unless anyone comes forward with a request. The plan is to pick a strong squad for the series at home, with the regulars set to be given rest for the tour of Zimbabwe in August.

Ahead of the IPL, the BCCI decided to keep track of the fitness and training management of all its contracted players with the help of the National Cricket Academy. It is understood that there are no big workload concerns, but sometime during the South Africa series, the entire team will be subject to a fitness test.

After the South Africa series, Rohit Sharma & Co will depart to the UK in June to play one Test (postponed from 2021), three T20Is and as many ODIs against England and another one against Ireland before leaving for the Caribbean, where they will play the West Indies in three ODIs and three T20Is in July-August. There are also indications that the number of T20Is could increase to five, with the last two matches likely to take place in in Florida.

With the Asia Cup slotted tentatively for August end to mid-September, there is no clarity on when the tour to Zimbabwe will take place. While the biggest possibility is sending a second string team, the BCCI is also simultaneously planning to give rest to key players at different times. While certain players are expected to be rested on tours depending on the workload, the team management and the selectors want all the key members available all these series as they are important in the T20 World Cup scheme of things.

"With WC coming up, these are important series to try different combinations. So, unless a player puts in a request, all the regulars will be picked. The players also need to know their respective roles and get enough game time ahead of the World Cup because at the IPL, they all play to different requirements. The last T20 WC was a reality check in understanding that aspect," sources privy to the developments said.

Ann lifts national bar, clinches gold

ASHIM SUNAM @ Bengaluru

ANN Mariya, 23, comes across as a jolly girl. Though she may not be fluent in English, her one-liners and replies during the media interaction made everyone chuckle on Wednesday. She always had her smile intact throughout the 20-minute conversation. But when she takes to the weightlifting platform, things change quite drastically. Ann draws a serious picture of herself, concentrating on the big task at hand.

The Mangalore University girl's class was on full show during the ongoing Khelo India University Games at the Jain University Global Campus here. She clinched gold in the +87kg category with a total lift of 230 kg. More importantly, she also set the national record in clean and jerk, lifting 129kg to break Manpreet Kaur's mark of 128. Her domination can be understood from the fact that T Satya Jothi from Acharya Nagarjuna University won silver with 189 kg, 41 kg less than Ann's combined lift. In fact, the girl from Kerala has made it a habit of breaking records. Late last month, she created a national record with a lift of 231kg (aggregate) in the national weightlifting championships.

Ann Mariya set a national record in clean and jerk (129kg)

Interestingly, Ann, whose father is an auto driver, initially started her career in powerlifting but quickly shifted to weightlifting. "Weightlifting and powerlifting are different things. Weightlifting involves much more technique. But I did not have to unlearn much. I did powerlifting just for fun in my initial days, when young. So whatever training happened, it was only for weightlifting," said Ann, who was also down with Covid last year. Her performances have improved ever since she joined Sports Authority of India, Bengaluru around three years ago. She has been training under the watchful eyes of coach Meenakshi Sundaram, who has ensured that she follows a strict training schedule.

With her making the right noises of late, the next few years are going to be important in Ann's career. The lifter has been selected to train at the Indian camp in Patiala, and her focus is on the Asian Games as of now after missing the trials for the Commonwealth Games. In her weight category, Purnima Pandey is an established figure and Ann is ready to provide some stiff competition as she is eager to make a name for herself in India colours as well. Sundaram believes that Ann has it in her to shine further. "I know that she is capable of lifting much more than what she has been doing. She can improve her game, but we need to have a good plan for that. Another important thing is that she needs competition. If that happens, there will be an improvement, else it will be difficult for her to improve if there is no challenge," said Sundaram.

GOAL FEST AT ETIHAD

Manchester City and Real Madrid played out a seven-goal thriller in Manchester to leave the semifinal of the Champions League in the balance going into the second leg. Talking points...

CITY WILL BE MORE DISAPPOINTED

In the cold light of day, Pep Guardiola's men will be more disappointed, even if they won the first leg 4-3. They were profligate in front of goal and missed simple balls in the final third which they routinely gobble up.

BENZEMA SHOW

Just like he did against Chelsea, Karim Benzema lifted Madrid. His opening goal was impudent while panenka penalty in the 82nd minute showed his steel and composure. In Madrid, he could get more chances.

RAGGED DEFENSIVE LINE

One reason why City allowed Madrid time and space in their third of the pitch was the changed backline. John Stones was clearly unfit, they were missing Joao Cancelo and Kyle Walker. The end result? They conceded goals (Vinicius Jr's strike comes to mind) they normally wouldn't. Madrid, on the other hand, were without Casemiro and his absence showed as City cut through midfield on the counter-attack at will.

ABOLITION OF AWAY GOALS A SUCCESS

Even if the occasion was a European semifinal, the match was largely end-to-end as both teams embraced chaos. The one reason why City didn't mind conceding goals as long as they got chances themselves is the removal of the away goals rule.

RESULT: MAN CITY 4-3 REAL

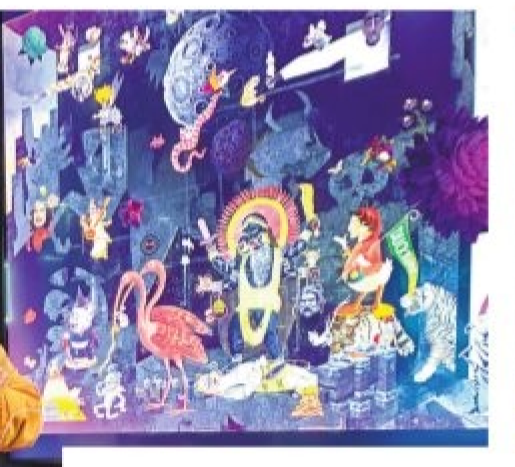
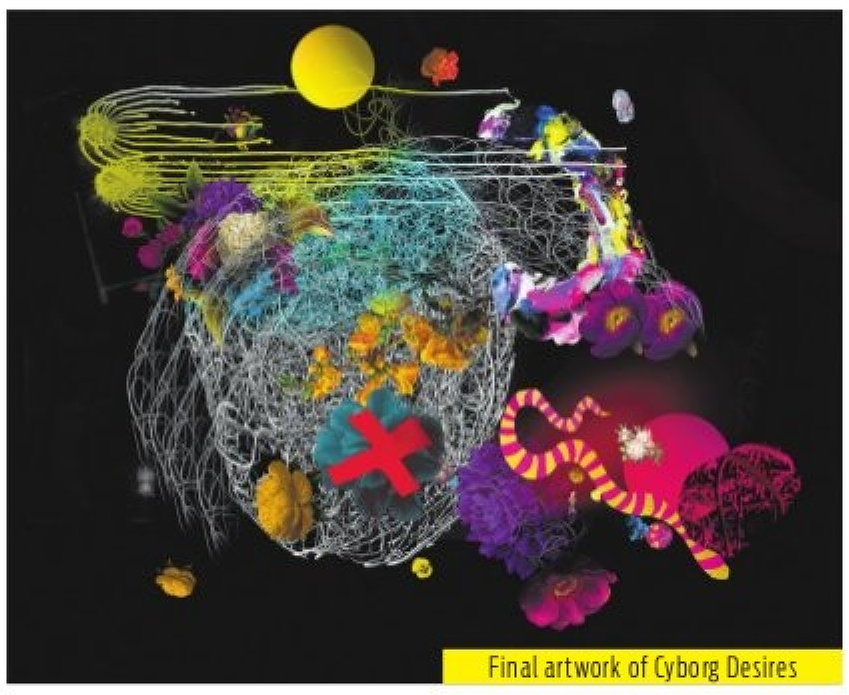
ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE MEETS HUMAN ART

After auctioning his unusual NFT for a whopping price of $94,500 at Sotheby's in New York, B'luru artist Raghava KK is now launching this work in the country for the first time



Raghava KK during the data collection



Final artwork of Cyborg Desires

ANILA KURIAN

IT'S not the first time Bengaluru-based artist Raghava KK has created something beyond one's imagination. On October 8, 2021, he auctioned the first-ever human orgasm in an art form at Sotheby's in New York for $94,500. While that turned out to be a huge hit, he wanted to bring the project closer home. So he took his game a notch higher and is using the help of artificial intelligence (AI) to make it better.

With AI, he 'created' multiple orgasms (male, female and couples) and created Cyborg Desires, the world's first AI orgasms. "The objective was to train and teach the machine to experience the most intimate of human experiences and then have the machine create — with the help of man — its own intimate moments," he explains. Now, a community that funds a 'regenerative future' by leveraging artists and creators, ReGenDAO, and Raghava will drop an NFT at Techne Disrupters, an epistemological art and tech show, next week in New Delhi.

Further explaining the concept, Raghava adds, "There will be a drop of one rare 3D Cyborg Desires and a series of 69 collectables. The proceeds we collect from the sale of the NFTs will go towards regeneration and land-art projects."

A tonne of data, while working with various people for the project, was collected to see how they react to certain situations. Raghava took it upon himself to understand how the physical feeling of an orgasm can be interpreted in a digital manner. And he used the most cutting-edge technology to learn and create art from it.

Done in collaboration with data scientist and AI artist Harshit Agrawal, neuroscientist Abhijeet Satani and technology advisor and 3D model developer Simone Majocchi, Raghava explains, "This has been a dream project. I'm extremely nervous to present this in my home country since it's something that is not discussed openly. After the original piece was sold at Sotheby's, I started work on a completely new project, but used the data collected from that project. Now, these art pieces are going to be the new NFTs," he says.

All the proceeds from the sale of NFTs will go towards the Dhun project which provides funds to Public Land Art Expressions, which is a pioneering open-air museums project in Jaipur. "This will help advocate for an accelerated transition to post-carbon economies by providing public art in open natural sites, and investigating alternative modes of artistic production and consumption by incubating individual and collaborative global art projects," he explains.

Celebrating Dance

Ahead of World Dance Day, here are two events that dance lovers can partake in

G ULAGANATHAN

APRIL 29 is International Dance Day, a much-awaited day by dancers world-over. The day marks the celebration of dance across the globe and was created by the Dance Committee of the International Theatre Institute (ITI), the main partner for the performing arts of UNESCO, Paris. The day, April 29 is also the birthday of Jean-Georges Noverre (1727–1810), the creator of modern ballet.

For the last three years, there was no celebration, however, this year there are two important events. Dance historian and prolific writer Ashish Mohan Khokar's annual yearbook 'attenDance 2022', is being launched on April 28, at Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan.

This is the 22nd edition of the yearbook, and will see guest editor Ranee Kumar, a Hyderabad-based arts writer present.

The content include articles by Dr Padma Subrahmanyam The Cosmic Dancer; Transcendence in dance by well-known dancer Mandakini Trivedi; Soul dances, does body dance? by Mikko Viitamaki; Sufiana-dance divine by Rani Khanam; My mystical experiences by V P Dhananjayan, among others.

The event includes a seminar on Dance Matters and the session will be headed by an eminent dance guru, Lalitha Srinivasan. A dance photo exhibition by city's well-known dance photographer Suresh VB will be inaugurated by former Ambassador to UNESCO Dr Chiranjiv Singh.

Dance 2.0

On April 30, Swapna Rajendrakumar, a talented Mohiniyattam dancer who trains young dancers in her institute, Nrityangana in Sahakar Nagar, is holding her maiden festival Umang at her institute, and is boldly making it a paid programme with a modest admission charge of ₹100.

The programme will commence with a Mohiniyattam recital by Swapna and her disciples, which will be followed by an Odissi recital by Debasish Pattnaik and his disciples. The finale presentation will be a Kathak recital by Sampada Pillai.

Swapna is the disciple of Sunanda Nair and is presently training under the guidance of Kalamandalam Kshemavathy. She is also training in Bharatanatyam under Guru Kiran Subramanium. Debasish Pattnaik is a prominent Odissi exponent for nearly 30 years, under the guidance of Late Guru Kashinath Roul and Guru Durga Charan Ranbir. Sampada Pillai is a Kathak danseuse and is a disciple of Late Dr Rohini Bhate and an alumni of Kala Academy Goa.

'Brand Arjunaa Stands to its Promise of Accuracy in Design'

Founders Rahul & Akshay A Jain (Inset) Kichcha Sudeep during the store's first anniversary

As we come around to another Akshaya Trithiya season — for most buyers and sellers with the past two years being curbed by the global pandemic —this year's excitement at both ends is palpable. And according to founders of Arjunaa Jewellers, Rahul A Jain and Akshay A Jain, no stone is being left unturned to ensure that customers get the best they can this season, with five unique offers that are hard to say no to.

Tell us about the origins of Arjunaa Jewellers.

Rahul A Jain: Backed by a multi-generational legacy of over six decades in the business of jewellery, Arjunaa Jewellers — based in 4th Block, Jayanagar — was conceptualised to be a house of all things precious, bringing together a range of offerings from gold, silver and other precious metal, to a wide range of coloured stones and gemstones. Placing utmost emphasis on ensuring quality without making beautiful, handcrafted luxury jewellery a mere dream to patrons, the brand's promise of 'Accuracy in Design' is an ode to a consistent effort in making sure patrons get nothing but the best.

Akshay A Jain: Offering everything from customization where necessary, to exemplary service in each in-store experience, Arjunaa — a brand born in Bangalore to young blood entrepreneurs carrying forward their family's heritage — takes pride in being an Indian, home-grown brand with a global approach to the modern tastes in all jewellery and articles. All designs at Arjunaa are carefully crafted by skilled artisans who come from a long line of experts in their respective fields: rooted in the beauty of tradition but versatile in the functionality of each piece.

Akshaya Trithiya must be a festivity of great activity for you since all these years. According to you, why do people come to Arjunaa Jewellers even though there are plenty of others in the business?

Rahul: Akshaya Trithiya has long become an emotion, more than a tradition for the buyer today. The tradition exists because of the memories and emotions that we as a society attach with our precious pieces. Today, our patrons don't look for just a piece to buy because it's an auspicious festival — they come into the portals of Arjunaa because it's Akshaya Trithiya and this is where they are most confident they will get the best value for their time and effort.

Akshay: Today, there are hundreds — if not thousands — of options for a customer to buy pieces from: whether they intend to buy jewellery or even other articles made of precious metal. So, it's not about lack of options anymore: it never has been.

Patrons come to Arjunaa because at Arjunaa — we build relations. This season, we have a few families of patrons who have been shopping with us for three generations! It's the most wonderful reward for what we do.

Being its first anniversary, what was the activity planned and what more can customers look forward to from Arjunaa Jewellers?

Rahul & Akshay: With a horde of notable names from all over the country who shop with and are patrons of the brand, Arjunaa's first anniversary celebration was graced by South Indian Superstar Kichcha Sudeep. Leaving behind a legacy of being in constant touch with the pulse of patrons and riding the waves of contemporary style while being rooted in the tradition of unadulterated craftsmanship that lasts decades, this Akshaya Trithiya, Arjunaa is a brand that stands up to its promise of 'Accuracy in Design' in every piece.

If you're not satisfied with your smile, modern cosmetic dentistry can completely transform your look

GETTING THAT MILLION-DOLLAR SMILE

DR AMRUTA DASH

COSMETIC dentists can improve the shape, size and arrangement of teeth to subtract years from your face. If you're not satisfied with your smile, modern cosmetic dentistry can completely transform your look. These treatments could improve the appearance of not just your teeth, but also your mouth, gums, and overall smile. From fixing crowded teeth, a crooked smile, a misaligned jaw, discoloured teeth, a gummy smile or simply changing the colour of your teeth, here are five best dental treatments for a million-dollar smile:

Orthodontics

Teeth-straightening braces may seem like a treatment performed only for teens. But orthodontics has come a long way from painful metal wires to rubber bands to ceramic braces. Orthodontic dentistry or an aligner treatment is no longer just for kids. Clear braces and clear aligners are gaining popularity owing to their discreetness for those who didn't get treatment done in their school days. The newer generation seeking invisible solutions like Invisalign are perfect compared to traditional braces. People who are constantly travelling due to work can find it easier with Invisalign than traditional braces since it's comfortable and most of all they don't need any emergency visits.

Teeth whitening

There is no toothpaste that can change the colour of our teeth. The only treatment that can do the trick is the in-clinic whitening treatments which can assure you a brighter and whiter smile. The safest and the most effective way to whiten your teeth is under dental supervision. The two most popular treatments are Zoom teeth whitening and Laser teeth whitening. Zoom teeth whitening option can transform the colour of your teeth within 45 minutes. The patients leave the clinic with teeth that are 4-6 shades lighter with minimal to no sensitivity. People can get this treatment done one week before an event. Brides and grooms can definitely get it done before their big day.

Composite bonding

Composites are tooth coloured filling materials. This treatment is ideal if your teeth are slightly chipped or fang-like. Bonding is one of the easiest and least expensive cosmetic dental procedures, which includes adding a resin (tooth coloured material) to the edges of the teeth to make them appear straighter.

Veneers

A veneer is a thin wafer-thin layer which is placed on a tooth that's tailor-made to match a patient's face and shape of the teeth. They are made from high strength ceramic or porcelain. From making the teeth look bigger or smaller and changing the shape, colour, to fixing broken teeth or discolouration (where bleaching doesn't work), veneers can give a complete makeover. Veneers look extremely natural and are apt to accentuate the face on average, and Veneers last about 15-20 years.

Tooth contouring

If you're unhappy with the shape or size of your teeth, you could consider contouring. It helps reshape uneven or chipped teeth. It's quick, painless and usually requires no recovery period, but as with every dental procedure, it's not for everyone as it may affect your bite.

① I sweat a lot during summers. So do you think it will help in losing weight?
Sweat doesn't have anything to do with weight loss. Sweating is the body's natural way of regulating body temperature. Exercise generates heat and sweat helps cool the body by releasing water and salt, which evaporates. The only mantra to lose weight is to ensure a calorie deficit and expenditure. Consume fewer calories, eat clean, and workout to expend calories. Stay consistent to see changes.

② I heard that capsicums have negative calories. So I've added it to all my meals, but it hasn't helped. Why is it not working out?
I have this amused smile on my face now — this is one of the most popular food fads that has grabbed everyone's attention in recent times. Trust me, if this was true, there would be no bariatric surgeries, liposuction or gyms! Certain foods like carrots, tomatoes, lettuces, broccoli, grapefruit, watermelon, and apples burn more calories during digestion as they are high in fibre. Please note, they do have calories. Focusing on a select list of negative-calorie foods may cause you to miss out on other important nutrients like protein or healthy fats, both of which are vital for your well-being. A diet that includes a variety of nutrient-dense foods teamed with exercise is beneficial for weight loss and overall health.

③ I have only two meals a day but the number on my weighing scale is still going up. Shall I start having only one meal a day?
Ouch, why would you want to deprive yourself of an opportunity to heal, rejuvenate and beautify yourself? Food is your fuel and medicine. Every meal is a chance to supply the body with the required nutrients for the body to function optimally, heal itself, rejuvenate, energise and form new healthy cells. Starving, cutting down calories or skipping meals will drive your body to go into conservation mode and it starts saving the available calories as fat. How much nutrition can you squeeze in at one or two meals? Instead of cutting down your meals, eat healthily and consume fewer calories. Moderation is the key factor to lose weight.

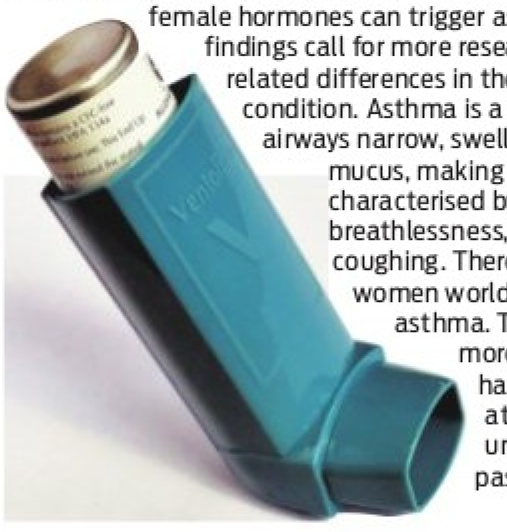
WOMEN MORE LIKELY TO HAVE ASTHMA ATTACKS, DEATHS THAN MEN: REPORT



Women with asthma who are going through puberty, pregnancy or are menstruating, are at higher risk of severe asthma attacks and deaths due to the lung disease, according to a report. The study — conducted by a non-profit Asthma and Lung UK — highlights that female hormones can trigger asthma flare-ups. The findings call for more research to examine the sex-related differences in the common lung condition. Asthma is a condition in which the airways narrow, swell and may produce extra mucus, making breathing difficult. It is characterised by wheezing, breathlessness, tightness in chest, and coughing. There are about 136 million women worldwide who suffer from asthma. The report showed that more than 5,100 women have died from an asthma attack, compared with under 2,300 men over the past five years in the UK.

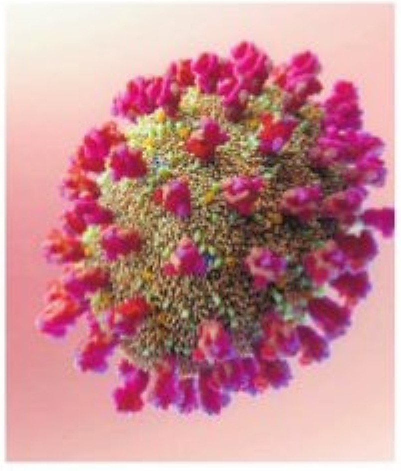
WHY DO YOU CONTRACT OMICRON EVEN AFTER FULL VACCINATION?



If you're wondering why after two vaccination doses and a booster shot, you still got sick from the Omicron strain of Covid-19, one possible answer may be that antibodies fighting the original virus may be weaker against the highly infectious variant. While fully vaccinated and boosted people produce a high level of antibodies that work against the original strain of SARS-CoV-2, the same tiny defenders don't do as well in preventing the Omicron strain from attacking healthy cells, found researchers at Johns Hopkins University in the US. "Previous research has shown vaccine-induced antibodies respond to the original strain of SARS-CoV-2 by inhibiting the virus's ability to bind to angiotensin-converting enzyme 2 [commonly known as ACE2], the receptor on a cell's surface through which SARS-CoV-2 gains entry," said Joel Blankson, Professor of medicine at the varsity's School of Medicine. — IANS

LEGACY CONTINUES

Hombale Films introduces Yuvarajkumar, the 3rd generation actor from the Rajkumar family. His launchpad will be directed by Santhosh Ananddram

CE FEATURES

WE earlier reported that Yuvarajkumar of the Rajkumar family will be soon making his acting debut in Sandalwood. Now, it is officially confirmed that Yuvarajkumar will be acting in director Santhosh Ananddram's upcoming film. And it will be bankrolled by Hombale Films - the makers of the KGF franchise.

Hombale Films released a picture of Yuvarajkumar from the recent photoshoot of the film and captioned it: The Legacy Continues.

On a special note, the production house also described the special bond between the Hombale Films and legendary Dr. Rajkumar's family. Hombale Film's maiden production was with Puneeth Rajkumar's film Ninnindale. The production also collaborated with the Power Star for blockbuster hits Raajakumara and Yuvarathnaa - which were directed by Santhosh Ananddram. The trio had planned to collaborate for the third time. However, the project stalled due to the untimely demise of the Power Star.

Tweeting about the collaboration with Yuvarajkumar, Santhosh says, "The film is dedicated to my idol, My Power Puneeth Rajkumar, (sic)". The director is currently busy with Jaggesh's Raghavendra Stores, another film by Hombale Films.

Meanwhile, Yuvarajkumar is gearing up for the role. The newbie was supposed to make his debut with a project called Yuva Ranadheera Kanteerava. Even a first-look teaser and poster of the film were unveiled. However, the film did not take off for unknown reasons.

Wishes are pouring in for the actor from all quarters for the new journey.

'YUVARAJKUMAR MIGHT BE NEW TO THE SILVER SCREEN BUT NOT TO THE AUDIENCE'

A SHARADHAA

SANTHOSH Ananddram, known for films like Mr and Mrs Ramachari, Raajakumara and Yuvarathna, and yet-to-be released Raghavendra Stores will be directing Yuvarajkumar. Talking about the collaboration, Santhosh says that Yuvarajkumar is a bundle of talent, and he has all the capabilities of an actor. "We now have to use the talent for the script, and we have just begun the process," says Santhosh, who is coming up with an action entertainer for Yuvarajkumar.

The director also points out that Yuvarajkumar might be new to the silver screen but not to the audience. "To me, it doesn't matter if I am working with a star or a newcomer. It's about what the script demands, and Yuvarajkumar is getting ready accordingly. He is dedicated, and I'm sure he will ace the action and dance sequences. He will do his best," he says.

Chkravarthy Chandrachud

'I wrote the script of Melobba Maayavi for my dear friend Sanchari Vijay'

CE FEATURES

CHKRAVARTHY Chandrachud, a journalist-turned-actor, has also doubled up as a story writer for Melobba Maayavi. He has also penned the dialogues and three songs for the film, which is directed by Naveen Krishna.

Talking about the story, Chakravarthy says, "During my tenure as a journalist, I researched about the gemstone mafia in the Western Ghats, which dates back to the times of the French and Britishers colonisation. It is older than KGF, and I thought there was a story to tell. It is a content-oriented script that blends elements of the gemstone mafia and the story of the Adivasi Madhupalkkad."

Chakravarthy plays the role of an antagonist, Sulaiman, a gemstone smuggler in the film. "I wrote this script for Sanchari Vijay, a very dear friend of mine. Viji insisted that the climax song should only feature me, and now, it has both of us in it. The film is also singer L N Shastry's last film, and the Nintu Hoitu Jeevagaana song was his last song," he says.

'SHOKIWALA WILL BE THE FIRST OUT AND OUT COMEDY FILM OF MY CAREER'

...says Ajay Rao, who has imbibed some of his friends' characterisation into playing the role of a village youth in the film directed by Jocky

CE FEATURES

Thimme Gowda, who is commonly referred to as Jocky by the people in the Kannada film industry, left his village Magadi and came to Bengaluru to become a director in 2009. He started his journey as a light boy and then went on to become a co-director with films like Victory, Ranna, Lucky, Santhu Straight Forward and Prashanth Neel's KGF Chapter 1.

He is finally turning into an independent director with Shokiwala. The film starring Ajay Rao and Sanjana Anand is all set to hit the theatres this Friday. Ahead of the release, Ajay talks to CE about playing the titular role. "Shokiwala translates to a person who is a 'show off', and that's my character's summary. Though I have done a rural film and played someone from the middle class, this is the first time I am part of an out and out comedy. By now, the audience is used to the tragedy in my films but Shokiwala will be starkly different to my previous films," says Ajay.

He shares that every character in Showkiwala is equally important. "It isn't the kind of film that is reliant on only the hero, every character who appears on screen is as vital as the protagonist."

Ajay goes on to explain how he got into the skin of the character. "It was interesting to play a happy-go-lucky village boy. I imbibed some of my friends' mannerisms to play this role. I know them from the time I did Excuse Me." Ajay says COVID was a blessing in disguise to Shokiwala. "We had completed shooting before the pandemic and we used the last few years to improve the re-recording, editing, and other post-production works. I think Shokiwala has evolved into a better film and it is still fresh. When we saw it recently, it felt like it was shot yesterday." The film is backed by T R Chandrashekar's Crystal Paark Cinemas and has music scored by Sridhar Sambraham.
